Six More Miners Found Alive

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) — Six coal miners, isolated deeply in a flooded mine shaft and presumed dead for nearly 10 days, were rescued today. All were termed in "good shape."

"Thank you, God," said Larry Lynch, the first to reach the mine entrance in pre-dawn darkness this morning. "You have delivered us from this living death...I made a vow all six of us would be out here together to thank the Lord."

Four other men trapped in the same area were found dead and their bodies were brought to the mine opening about 8 a.m. (EDT), about four hours after the six reached safety.

One report yet to be confirmed was that two of the dead men drowned while trying to run from the wall of water as it broke into the mine. There was no report on how the other two died but officials said they presumed they drowned. Autopsies will be performed later today.

Another 15, who were trapped just before noon on May 6 when water poured in from an adjoining and abandoned mine, were rescued last Saturday.

The six paused for prayer at the mine entrance, received quick medical checkups and were sped by ambulances to Sacred Heart hospital in Richwood, 15 miles away.

"Who said miracles don't happen?" shouted one miner as he alighted from an ambulance at the hospital's entrance. "People say God is dead but he's alive and here with us."

The men sipped hot chocolate in their hospital beds. All appeared cheerful and unharmed but hospital authorities barred newsmen from talking to the men while they chatted with their families.

There had been no contact with the men since the water rushed in from the abandoned mine just before noon on May 6. A hole was drilled through the mountain to a point where the men were thought to be and touched water. Officials presumed they had drowned.

One of the rescued men told officers of the Gauley Coal and Coke Co., operator of the mine, that he had rationed the sandwiches with them.

They said they also drank the murky water which flooded the passageway. A doctor at the hospital said the water had to be considered contaminated. He said the danger of typhoid and dysentery exists.

A search team spotted tracks this morning on the other side of receding water in the passageway, and followed them to the men. The trapped men had left their underground prison and walked to the edge of the water as it receded.

The six then followed the search team on their hands and knees for 800 yards to a mine cart. The cart took them to a conveyor belt which they rode to the mine entrance. The cart skipped the track but one official said the three men in it "were in good enough shape to put it back on the track."

At the three-story hospital, the men were shielded from

Tornado Siege Kills 70, Injures Hundreds

The most vicious onslaught of tornadoes this year slammed across the nation's midsection leaving some 70 persons dead and a score of others missing today. Property damage ran into the millions.

Hundreds of persons were injured.

The clawing winds smashed structures in a nine-state area Wednesday evening and night. The toll climbed slowly today as rescue workers poked through the ruins.

Arkansas, a state periodically plagued by twisters, was hardest hit, with 43 dead. Iowa counted 14 dead and 20 missing. Illinois counted 10 deaths from twisters and severe weather and Missouri and Indiana 1 each.

The university city of Jonesboro, Ark., reported 34 dead and 350 injured by midmorning. The tornado bypassed Arkansas State University, however, and all its 6,000 students escaped injury.

Five of the communities hit in Arkansas—Oil Trough, Tuckerman, Manila, Marion and Black Oak, are in the state's tornado alley, battered by frequent storms.

In northeastern Iowa, Charles City, Oelwein and Maynard were hardest hit.

The Red Cross estimated 60 per cent of Charles City was damaged, with 90 businesses wrecked or damaged, 300 homes destroyed and hundreds of persons injured.

In central and Southern Illinois, four were killed at Wapella and four in Freeburg. Two additional Illinois deaths were attributed to storms.

The Red Cross said Wapella, a community of 500 situated 30 miles north of Decatur, Ill., suffered 90 per cent damage. Every building in the small community except the high school was damaged or destroyed.

The rash of tornadoes — the Weather Bureau reported more than 30 in a nine-state area from Kansas to Ohio — erupted as a strong cold front clashed with warm, humid temperatures in the mid 80s. Shortly before 7th

Shortly before striking in Arkansas, the wave of twisters raked northeastern Iowa. A funnel cloud roared through downtown Charles City around 4 p.m. Eleven were dead when the storm was over and, police reported, most buildings in an eight-block area were demolished.

Only an hour later a twister whipped into Oelwein, 50 miles from Charles City, striking first at the south edge of the community and then blasting a path through the business district. The highway patrol said two persons were killed in the city, two were missing and a child was killed just north of Oelwein, ne city.

National Guard troops were called out both in Arkansas and Iowa. Additional doctors, nurses and blood were flown to stricken parts of Iowa from as far away as Minneapolis.

The storms in Arkansas poured more heavy rain on sections of that state still flooded from heavy downpours earlier in the week.

Tornadoes or severe thunderstorms swept almost the entire length of Illinois, starting before noon Wednesday and continuing into the night.

Hardest hit in Illinois was Freeburg, near East St. Louis, where four died and scores were reported injured.

Two died at Wapella, in central Illinois. Communication was lacking with Wapella, and authorities feared the toll there would go higher. An elderly woman died of a heart attack after a tornado swooped across Natrona, also in central Illinois. A University of Illinois student was electrocuted by a shorted traffic signal in a flooded

Champaign street intersection. Severe thunderstorms sweeping western Kansas and Missouri unleashed several tornadoes in that region as well. One man was killed near Joplin, Mo., when a bolt of lightning struck a tree and jumped to a tractor he was driving.

Tornadoes swiped through central Indiana into the night hours, causing several injuries and considerable property damage south west of Indianapolis. Baseball-size hailstones pounded some communities just west of the Indiana capital during the storms.

Indiana State Police said Shirley Butcher, 27, was killed when a tornado struck her house trailer near Wabash in northeastern Indiana. Eleven other trailers in the court were demolished by other occupants escaped serious injury.

Injuries and property damage also were reported at Peru, Ind.

Scattered Damage in Region From Lightning and Wind

Howling winds accompanied by rain, thunder and lightning night making repairs. Only about 20 rural customers between through southeast Missouri Hunterville and Parma were still Wednesday night but the area without power this morning.

A line outage near Bertrand damaged a small funnel caused heavy put about 50 customers out of service this morning.

Neelyville, and seriously injured Stephensson added. George Rigdon, 48, owner of a liquor store there. He was taken light. Jim Sherwood, 834 to a hospital in Poplar Bluff, the Anderson, reported that Missouri highway patrol lightning struck near his house, damaged his television antenna and entered the house. He also Rigdon was in his liquor store when the wind tore it said high winds blew shingles off apart. The storm struck in his house.

A garage and an implement shed were damaged west of Parma on the Oren Brannon farm. No injuries were reported. A heavy gust overturned a house trailer occupied by Mrs. Elaine Austin five miles west of Parma. She was not injured.

The civil defense department of Campbell reported sighting a tornado funnel in the night, E. R. (Dick) Inman, director of the board of municipal utilities, reported. The transformers will be replaced today. Power shortages occurred in the Midland public housing project near the Lee Hunter school, in the South Park housing project along Magnolia street, along Baker Lane, and along Maplewood.

"None of the customers were without power for much more than 20 minutes," Inman said. Bill Proffer, manager of Missouri Utilities Co., reported that lightning damaged transformers in Smith Addition, Miner and east of Miner. The transformer in Miner caused power failure to one customer, Joe Barker. The other transformer east of Miner caused power failure to George Taylor. The Smith Addition transformer caused a shortage to eight customers.

Morris Gaines, manager of Missouri Utilities in Charleston, reported that a utility pole blew down in Charleston at 11 p.m. near the Lincoln School causing an outage in one section for five minutes. About 50 rural customers between Charleston and Annonist also were knocked out of service by the storm.

John Donoho, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., reported about 15 drop lines affecting individual lines were damaged by the storm.

Heavy winds causing limbs and trees to fall on a small telephone cable at Lilbourn caused a curtailment of service last night to about 50 customers in that area, Donoho said.

Another House To Be Built

Another house will be built in the leased housing program.

Don Kellett, Sikeston, was given a letter of intent by the Sikeston Housing Authority to build a two-family duplex house on the 400 block of Wilson St.

The unit is the only one approved except for the five four-unit apartments under construction on Cresap and Harris by the Vivian J. Potashnick family.

U.S. Troop Toll Hits Record 562

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops launched strong attacks today north of Saigon and in the Central Highlands as the U.S. Command announced that more American soldiers were killed in combat last week than in any week of the Vietnam war.

U.S. Command said 562 Americans were killed, 19 more than the previous record in the week of Feb. 11-17. The U.S. Command reported 5,552 enemy killed last week, no record, while South Vietnamese headquarters said 675 government troops were killed, their third highest weekly toll of the war.

A U.S. spokesman said much of the American death toll resulted from heavy action in the northernmost provinces, where U.S. Marines fought several battles last week around Dong Ha, 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone. The week also saw hard fighting in and around Saigon as American and South Vietnamese forces crushed the second enemy offensive within four months against the capital.

Allied forces reported nearly 400 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed Wednesday in clashes from the canal-laced Mekong Delta to today there were reports of more fighting in the Central Highlands on three sides of Kontum, a key provincial capital, and near Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country.

The Communist command appeared to be trying to keep up the military pressure to strengthen its bargaining position at the Paris peace talks. It sent troops storming at American and Australian positions and South Vietnamese outposts.

Near Khe Sanh, North Vietnamese troops fought U.S. Marines from bunkers for 7 1/2 hours. Gradual shelling continued during the day.

The heaviest fighting was around Kontum City where an allied force reported 147 North Vietnamese killed in five hours of action Wednesday during which not an allied soldier was killed.

That battle was seven miles northeast of Kontum City. Today, in the darkness before dawn, North Vietnamese troops about 20 miles west of the city opened up with mortars, rocket-propelled grenades, flamethrowers and small arms on a patrol base and an outpost of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division within 400 yards of each other.

The defenders of the outpost were forced back to the patrol base, which retaliated with Air Force twin-engine AC47s armed with rapid-firing guns sprayed thousands of rounds into the enemy positions under the light of flares.

As dawn broke, the North Vietnamese pulled back but an hour later renewed the mortar attack on the patrol base. Gradual shelling continued during the day.

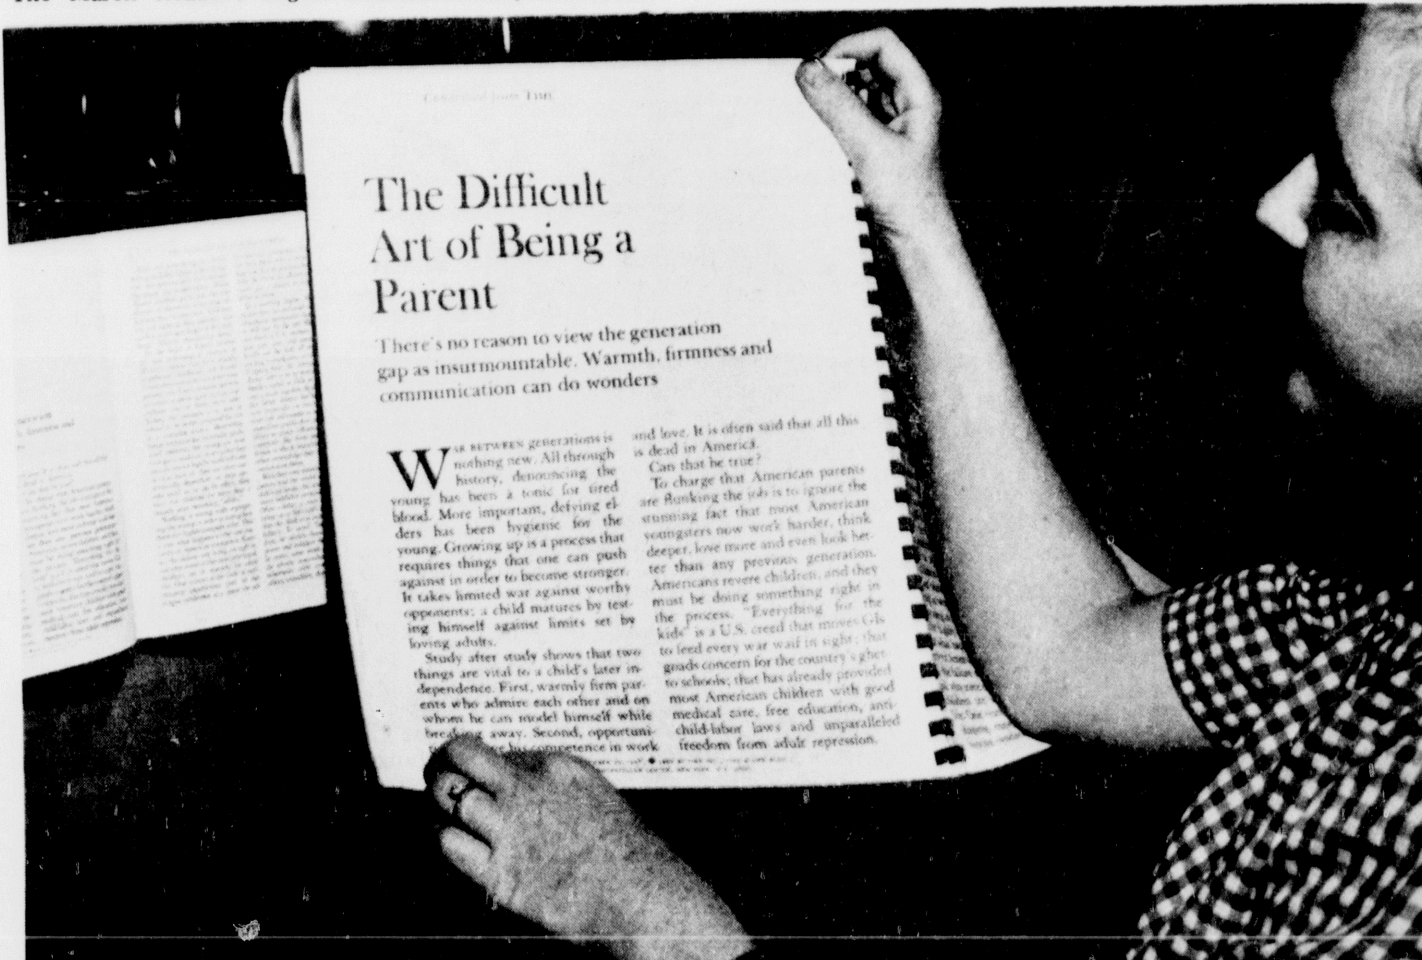

Australian troops manning a patrol base 25 miles northeast of Saigon threw back hundreds of charging North Vietnamese twice as the enemy launched "two determined waves of ground attacks about two hours apart" early today, the Australian Command reported.

The enemy covered their infantry assault with a steady barrage of rocket and mortar fire, but Australian and U.S. fighter-bombers raked the attackers.

The air campaign against North Vietnam's southern panhandle meanwhile appeared to be slackening off despite improving weather conditions. A tabulation showed U.S. planes flew 1,513 missions against the area during the first two weeks of May, 127 less than they flew in poorer weather during the last two weeks of April.

U.S. spokesmen refused to comment when asked if the reduction was a conciliatory gesture to North Vietnam because of the preliminary peace talks in Paris.

COMPENSATION FOR RIOT VICTIMS

A Brooklyn haberdasher has filed a $250,000 claim against the city of New York, charging that the police failed to protect his store from looters on the night of April 5. He says the police ignored a burglar alarm, watched while the looters carried $75,000 worth of goods from his store, and ignored his telephone calls pleading for protection.

City Controller Mario Procaccino says he has received many inquiries about filing such claims and "we anticipate receiving more."

New York City is in such desperate financial straits that this will be bad news for Mayor John Lindsay, who has been receiving a certain amount of acclaim lately for the "restraint" used by his police during the recent disorders. He was quite scornful in his comments on Chicago Mayor Daley's statement that the police would shoot arsonists and looters in the future.

Of course, if a city decides that it is sound policy to turn some property over to the looters and arsonists in order to prevent devastation, the owners of the sacrificed property surely ought to be compensated.

New York's taxpayers had better prepare themselves to finance Mayor Lindsay's hesitation to enforce the laws.

HEARNES FOR GOVERNOR

If there was ever any doubt whether or not Warren E. Hearnes would make a good governor that doubt has been erased by the manner in which he has conducted the office since he was inaugurated in January of 1965.

Warren E. Hearnes has not only been a good governor, but in our opinion an outstanding one. His accomplishments have been many and his performance as executive officer of this great state has been refreshing.

Perhaps the thing that we like best about the man is his approach to problems. He accepts each problem as a challenge - standing firm when it is needed and giving a little when necessary to accomplish a goal.

He promised a "fresh new look" in Jefferson City and it was long overdue.

Governor Hearnes came into the national limelight a couple of years ago when he dared to suggest that Missouri and other states assume more responsibility of solving their own problems rather than leaving it to Washington. He believes strongly that the greatest government is where the people, themselves, have an active role - on the local level and on the state level. He puts strong emphasis on improving local government.

The Governor has seen much of his proposed legislation approved by the legislature. In the field of education there has been increase in aid to local school districts under the School Foundation Program; improved teacher retirement system; and significant increase in Junior College and higher education support.

Under his guidance our highways have been improved and a law was enacted establishing a turnpike authority.

Governor Hearnes has been instrumental in obtaining more industry for the state and most notable in this area is the huge aluminum reduction plant to be located near New Madrid. He played an important part in helping to get this industry for Missouri.

He led a successful campaign to secure more funds for mental health and expansion of centers for treating the mentally retarded.

He recommended that there be no increase in taxation. Not only has there been no increase, but a state three cents property tax was repealed. The Department of revenue was reorganized to provide increased collections with no increase in tax rates.

LOCALLY Gov. Hearnes is the man responsible for the establishment of an automobile license bureau at the city hall in Malden which provides a convenient service to residents of portions of Dunklin, Stoddard and New Madrid Counties. This one act alone should merit Warren Hearnes strong support throughout the tri-county area.

The prompt manner in which he ordered National Guardsmen to Kansas City to control race riots won Warren Hearnes the admiration of all Missourians who believe that law and order must prevail if society as we know it is to survive.

We have outlined only a few of the accomplishments and reasons why we support the nomination and re-election of Warren E. Hearnes as Governor of Missouri. Missouri needs his leadership for another four years.

JUSTICE MARSHALL: EXCELLENT CHOICE

The appointment of Thurgood Marshall to the Supreme Court deserves speedy confirmation by the Senate.

Any delaying tactics would not only be a refusal to recognize the last 100 years of America history but would be a futile attempt to block the progress of the next 100.

Marshall's qualifications are unquestioned. His experience and service, both in private practice and on the federal judgeship level, are outstanding. He is probably more familiar with the workings of the high court than any other lawyer in the country, having argued 32 cases before it as counsel to the NAACP and 19 as U.S. solicitor general.

There is some speculation that Marshall's appointment will lead to the informal reserving of a "Negro seat" on all future courts, just as for most of this century the court has included one Roman Catholic and one Jew among its nine members.

It is to be hoped this will not be the case. Supreme Court

Now, when someone knocks on my bathroom door, I never know whether I'll be a member of the family, a visiting Elk, the neighborhood scissors grinder, or a kid selling Girl Scout cookies.

NEW REORGANIZATION BILL REVEALS PAY DIFFERENCES

Recently during a Senate debate on reorganizing Congress, an amendment designed to eliminate "pirating" of one house's committee workers by another was voted down, notes Tax Foundation, Inc. The reorganization bill which, if finally approved, would add an approximate $5 million to the current $135 million annual cost of operating Congress, passed the Senate overwhelmingly. It was the first reorganization bill in 20 years to gain one House's approval.

Sen. Ellender of Louisiana who introduced the amendment declared that the difference between top pay scales for House and Senate committee workers was not eliminated by the reorganization measure. Existing rules, he said, do not enable him to pay the same salary to a committee attorney as a House committee is able to pay.

As a result, said the Senator, an attorney who had been with his committee was able to get higher wages from a House committee. "He resigned so that he would get $25,890 from the House," said Ellender.

He noted that House committee chairman can pay staff people "any amount up to $25,890", while a Senate committee chairman's top pay limitation is "...not more than $24,460..."

Under the Senate's reorganization bill, each standing committee of both houses would be able to add three new committee staff jobs. There are 36 standing committees (both houses combined) and, adding these extras, would cost additional millions of salary dollars.

The reorganization debate also revealed that spending for committee inquiries and investigations had increased from $4.8 million in the 84th Congress (1955-56) to an estimated $5.9 million for the 90th's first session.

Another item of Congressional expense: House and Senate committees reported spending $718, 278 on overseas travel in 1966. The Congressional Record shows that three House members took foreign trips after deciding to retire (two of them after Congress adjourned), the third after being defeated for re-election.

TWO PATHS FOR YOUTH
The Republic's future depends largely upon our young people. If the majority of them can be taught sound values, patriotism, and a love for freedom, our country will be in good hands.

It is disturbing to many who recognize these facts that some of our people choose to lead lives that are non-productive and self-destructive. The "hippies" say that they have "dropped out" of society. Actually, they have turned their backs on a useful life and sacrificed self-respect. They boast of individualism, yet renounce independent judgment for a rigid conformity in dress, habits, and ideas. They talk of independence, yet live on handouts.

Fortunately, the "hippies" represent only a small minority of American youth. The wastefulness of their way of life should be graphically pointed out to our other young people so that they will not be tempted to imitate or admire "hippies."

They have been so glamorized that those who know better should make special efforts to point out the truth.

Once our young people realize the futility of the "hippie" life their attention can be turned to more constructive activities. They should be taught the importance of personal enterprise and true individualism, and encourage them to reject dependence and to value liberty.

Most importantly, we can give them opportunities to spread these ideas and to have a constructive influence on society. One such opportunity is Youth Freedom Speakers. These young people are a sharp, refreshing contrast to the "hippies," and make a real contribution to the preservation of freedom in this country. HLH

Any lawmakers or officeholder who takes the oath to defend our Constitution then fails to do so, is just as guilty of violating their oath and obligation to the people as one who fails to follow the un-American line of replacing our Constitution with one dictated by the would-be dictators as they have replaced the Bible in our schools with politics. It looks like our nation has only one avenue of escape. Toss both old parties out and close ranks with only one aim for all, restore our Government back into the hands of the people from whence it came, and when any officeholder from dog-catcher to president fails to toe the line, call for a vote of the people to recall him or her (?).

BIG CASH LOOTED:
Congress Ignores Pleas For Laws to Protect $100 Billion Welfare Pension Funds From Crooked Operators.

Washington, D.C.: - Despite the danger of being exiled as a conformist, I insist that $100 billion still is a lot of money. This is confirmed by the Cosa Nostra and other ghoulish characters in a score of big cities where the underworld is hacking away at this fantastic pool of dollars supposedly wrapped up tight in allegedly safeguarded labor welfare and pension funds.

Since some $16 to $18 billion pour into this cash pool each year, one federal official has described it as the "largest single source of equity capital in our economy."

The Cosa Nostra and its fellow travelers don't do badly from time to time, because the billions are relatively unprotected and only a few dedicated federal men seem to care.

For almost a year now, statements and statistics in hand, they've literally begged for a hearing, literally begged for the passage of laws which would give them a chance to protect the dollars intended for the protection of the aging and aching moments of millions of working people.

The Congress does little but listen, fidget, worry about recess, adjournment and polls back home. Meanwhile, overfed characters, some in the manicured Cosa Nostra, some outside, chisel on eyeglasses, dental care, medical attention, and old-age security.

Certainly there are tens of thousands of honest funds. But there are those which get mighty shadowy - what with special pools of doctors, special commissions, special investments, gay conferences of welfare and pension experts spending tens of thousands on festive parties and, with great abandon, handing out $100-per-diem allowances.

In the past few years the government has traced the mishandling of tens of millions of dollars - some by expensive chiselers, some by accountants, brokers, and realty operators, some by union officials and some by he mobs.

"The accessibility and use of such vast sums by brokers, trustees, union officers and employer officials have caused them to become targets for cultivation and control by organized criminals," said Frank Kleier, Director of the Labor Department's Office of Labor-Management and Welfare - Pension Reports.

The hardy Frank Kleier, one of those who has been pleading for the passage of bills now in the Senate and House, is the force behind the little-known Branch of Special Investigations, 10 percent of its assets in the buried deep in Kleier's office. It is in almost daily contact with the labor unit of the Dept. of Justice.

But without enforcement powers it is virtually helpless in the $100 billion welfare and pension jungle.

Recently there has been a flurry of federal indictments. One such Grand Jury action involves the heavily investigated St. Louis local 562 of the plumbers and pipefitters.

That case is an entangle labyrinth of brokers, special stock issues for the privileged at $1 a share though it was selling at $4.50 to $8 on the open market; bank accounts; a miasma of checks, shifting of insurance companies and the apparent loss of scores of thousands of dollars.

One co-conspirator in the case was found floating off Miami. The trail of others stretches from Washington to the Florida gold coast, to Mount Pleasant, Tenn., to Houston, to St. Louis, to Gary, Ind.

This is the same local which has managed to get up a political fund which distributed $1 million in some three years.

Then there is the indictment the other day of a band of men on charges of kicking back "substantial amounts" to an accountant for the Teamsters' notorious Chicago - based Central States Southeast and Southwest Pension Fund. That was the fund in which Jim Hoffa and some codefendants tampered with $20 million.

The latest indictment involves three alleged Cosa Nostra characters and Bernard Spindel, who once was Jimmy Hoffa's electronics expert.

These cases are typical. But Mr. Kleier and his dedicated band still don't have the law they need. The bills for which they plead would give the Secretary of Labor, Mr. Kleier's chief, a chance to investigate those pension funds. Now he can't.

In fact, studies show, no one really can unless someone comes along and defects, and hands the evidence to the FBI.

In addition, there would be a redefining of the fiduciary relationship of the men who control the funds.

Proposed laws, which the Congress obviously plans to ignore again this session, also would do the following:

It would deem any person who exercises any control or authority over a pension and welfare fund a "fiduciary." Any such "fiduciary" who breaches his responsibility would be personally liable to the fund.

He would have to return lost money to it. He would have to return to it the profits he made with investments on money taken or borrowed from the fund.

No trustees agreement could release him from this section of the proposed act. The Secretary of Labor or any participating rank and filler could bring action in a District Court to recover damages or to force the removal of any fiduciary.

No fiduciary could borrow from the fund unless all participants (the rank and file) could also do so.

No union or its officials, or company or executives contributing to the fund could borrow money from it. Nor could the fund invest more than 10 percent of its assets in the stock of any participating employer.

There is more - such as enlarging the number of crimes, conviction of which would make a man ineligible for any fiduciary post. There now are dozens of ex-criminals with power over funds worth billions.

Yet the Congress dawdles, counts the number of days to adjournment, though it knows it would get the President's signature to such a law.

He has promised that. Why don't they act?

Bulldogs End 9-4; Lose 6 Seniors Javier Declared "Sultan of Swat"

The Sikeston high school baseball team ended its season last Thursday by bowing out of the state tournament to a tough West Plains team 5-2. The loss completed the Bulldogs' record at 9 wins and 4 losses.

N. P. McDaniel, coach of the Dogs, labeled the year as a fairly good one for the school. He said:

"The team broke slow from the gate due to the fact there were several underclassmen in the starting lineup.

"Once they got their feet wet with a little experience the team began to play the caliber of baseball that they should. Due to the fact that the team had so many games rained out it was not until the end of the season that they really got rolling."

Coach McDaniel said that he expects the team to be as strong if not stronger next year. He expects great things from the young pitchers with a year of high school baseball behind them.

There are six seniors graduating. They are Webb Edwards, Mike Garner, Pat Hart, Gary Wiss, Roger McDaniel and Ed Felker. These boys started most of the games and will leave holes for Coach McDaniel to fill. McDaniel said that he thought the team would be hurt the most by the absence of Garner. He was the team leader.

Mike led the team in four hitting departments and shared in two others. He also hit safely in 13 games for the Dogs, the only player to do so. He led in hitting, .561, hits, 23; home runs 4 and runs batted in with 14.

Garner shared the team's lead in doubles, five, and runs scored, 15, with another senior Roger McDaniel. McDaniel also led the team in triples with two, and blasted a batting average of .488, the second highest on the team. Stan Sorrells and Wiss were the other team leaders. Sorrells led in times at bat with 43 and Wiss with walks by drawing six. Sorrells is a sophomore.

The Bulldogs achieved notable marks as they pounded the opposing pitchers for 114 hits for a robust .340 team average. pitching. The question mark game and handcuffed the opposition to a mere .185 batting average. These boys will be back for next year. It was a good year for the Dogs.

Sewing Machine Ad May Be Bait

ST. LOUIS — Norman H. Anderson, Attorney General, stated the bait is a want ad in a newspaper. He said this is how a typical one reads:

"1966 (Well-known sewing machine) console — walnut console w/dial-a-stitch for fancy patterns, zigzag, button holes and so on. Purchase price $8 payments $7.50, new guarantee. But when he arrives, he has two machines, the one advertised, plus a new one of an obscure brand.

You explain to him that you are interested in the repossessed machine because its advertised price is only $60. "Well, all right," he replies, "but, to be honest, the machine is not much good."

WET DOWN THEMSELVES. PHOENIX (AP) — Patrons of a restaurant demonstrated how to keep cool when a fire broke out recently during the noon hour they headed for the bar.

As the dining room began to fill with smoke, manager A.V. Knox said, "some 60 patrons left their tables and some of them headed right for the bar and started ordering drinks."

Political Signs

Forbidden on Right-Of-Way

JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri State Highway Department Chief Engineer M. J. Snider today asked workers for political parties not to post signs or placards on state highway right of way.

"All Department maintenance personnel have been re-advised as to the long-standing policy and regulation concerning the exclusion of all advertising, including political posters and signs, from the right of way on state highways," Mr. Snider said. "Maintenance employees statewide have been instructed to remove all such advertising impartially."

Snider added, "Much time and expense can be saved if these signs and posters are not put up on highway right of ways."

Missouri has more than 32,000 miles of state highways. Maintaining them requires the full time of all maintenance crews. Snider added, "If these crews must spend their time removing advertising signs on every mile of the highway system, the highway user is the loser in an unnecessary drain on his tax money."

"Also," Snider said, "the cluttering of right of way along Missouri's highways with signs and posters contributes to a traffic hazard as well as mars the beauty of roadside scenes."

HONOLULU (AP) — A 20-year-old hitchhiking sailor was given a ride from Pearl Harbor recently.

He offered to return the favor by sharing a smoke with his benefactor. The cigarette was marijuana, and the benefactor was a policeman.

When the sailor pulled out a sack of loose marijuana to roll his own cigarette, the policeman pulled over to the side of the road and pulled out his badge. The sailor was charged with illegal possession of narcotics.

Air Traffic Controller Has No Room for Error

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight supply new equipment for hours a day, six days a week, present airports. Michael J. Rock doesn't dare. Proposed legislation directly make a mistake in his concerning the controller also job—hundreds of lives are at will be taken to Congress, Rock said.

Rock is an air traffic controller. Among the items to be controller, the man who keeps sought, he said, would be higher the big airlines away from each salaries, with the apprentice other as they fly the crowded getting $7,000 and the "front line" controller $15,000.

"If you're controlling 30 retirement after 20 years at 50 planes with 100 persons in each, per cent of pay, higher hiring that's a lot of lives," Rock said qualifications, such as several in an interview. "There's no years of college, and "no more room for a mistake. The pressure than 40 hours a week except in emergencies."

Rock, 31, a controller at New York's La Guardia Airport, for more than a year," he said, "with no relief in sight."

Rock is a founder and chairman of the newly formed Professional Air Traffic Controller Organization, PATCO. Since the organization's formation last January, Rock said, some 4,800 controllers have joined. The Federal Aviation Administration estimates the number of controllers in the nation at about 14,000. Other organizations representing these Civil Service employees include the Air Traffic Controllers Association and the National Association of Government Employees.

Rock said PATCO not only hopes to improve the controller's lot but the air traffic system as well.

"The whole system has been patched for years," Rock said. "It's just barely keeping up, and the projections for the increase in air travel in the next decade are fantastic. About 20 per cent of the population now flies. In the next 10 years, it's expected 80 per cent will fly."

"We need airports. More and more flights are being added and there's no place to put the planes down."

Finding the right spot for those planes to land is the controller's job.

A controller, whose salary ranges between $6,000 a year for a trainee to about $14,000 at the top, usually handles his planes vocally and visually, by radio and radar.

Depending on the time of day and the part of the country, he may handle as little as one plane at a time or as many as 30.

"But every time you go to work it's like fighting for the championship," Rock said. "And when you're finished it takes three or four hours to unwind."

Rock, a controller for 10 years, said PATCO planned to ask Congress to give more funds to build new airports as well as

Father Looks After Baby in Rear Seat, Wrecks Car

NEW MADRID — Injured in a one-car accident yesterday on Interstate 55 one half mile north of the south overpass of highway 61 near New Madrid were George Johnson, 30, Memphis, his wife, Myrna Sue, 30, and infant son, David John, one. Another son, Tony, three, was bruised.

All were taken to the Delta Community Hospital at Sikeston.

Johnson received fractured ribs and mouth injuries and his wife a broken jaw and severe head and scalp injuries. David was reported to have received a skull fracture. Tony Johnson was not hospitalized.

One of these, the informants say, would be to extend most-favored-nation status to Czechoslovakia in trade with the United States. The other would be to reach an agreement in the deadlocked quarrel over $20 million worth of Czechoslovak gold impounded by the United States since World War II.

American trade with Communist Czechoslovakia reached a peak in 1966, an overall exchange figure of $65 million. The United States sold this country mostly grain, fertilizers and other agricultural products. Last year, the trade figure fell off by half.

The present regime, under Alexander Dubcek, first secretary of the Communist party, has made clear it would like most-favored-nation treatment. The policy of the U.S. administration is that an agreement should be negotiated.

The administration favors similar procedures in the case of Romania, also a maverick in the European Communist camp. However, the U.S. Congress has been unwilling to act.

The gold in question is Czechoslovakia's share of what was looted by the Nazis in Europe during the war. The United States, as a victor nation, pledged itself to seek the rightful owners. The gold was impounded.

Since the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia, however, and the subsequent nationalization of all property, including that of foreigners, American citizens have registered $72 million in claims, plus $41 million more in interest.

After the Communist takeover, the United States also confiscated a steel mill for which the previous non-Communist Czechoslovak government paid $17 million. The United States subsequently sold it for $9 million, which was applied against some of the claims. The present Prague government insists that the $17 million is deductible from any bill presented by the Americans.

There have been long and fruitless negotiations about the gold. The Czechoslovaks say the Americans agreed in 1961 on a lower claims figure. The United States did imply it might forget about the interest.

State Health Care Costs Soar Rapidly

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—In a report made public today state Welfare Director Proctor N. Carter said Missouri spent $9,540,528 in expanded health aid for welfare recipients during the first five full months of the Medicaid program in the state.

The 1967 Legislature appropriated $11,800,000 in state money for the period from Oct. 13, 1967, through June 30, 1968, the initial period of state operation under Title 19 of the Medicare Act. Along with that $17,300,000 in federal money is available.

The special session of the Legislature earlier this year appropriated $15,769,708 in state money for Medicaid in the 1968-69 fiscal year. For that period $25,519,487 in federal money also will be available.

Czechs Hope For Boost From U.S.

PRAGUE (AP) — Some highly placed Czechoslovak Communists who stand for liberalization of the regime express hope privately for a gesture from the United States which might bolster their morale in what looks like an uphill fight against Moscow-inspired pressure.

Non-Communist sources point out, however, that anything beyond a gesture might add danger to an already potentially explosive situation developing between Czechoslovakia and other members of the Communist bloc.

Communist informants say the United States, without appearing to interfere in the current situation, could do two things which might help both materially and in terms of morale in a country whose economic problems present formidable barriers to liberalization.

One of these, the informants say, would be to extend most-favored-nation status to Czechoslovakia in trade with the United States. The other would be to reach an agreement in the deadlocked quarrel over $20 million worth of Czechoslovak gold impounded by the United States since World War II.

American trade with Communist Czechoslovakia reached a peak in 1966, an overall exchange figure of $65 million. The United States sold this country mostly grain, fertilizers and other agricultural products. Last year, the trade figure fell off by half.

The present regime, under Alexander Dubcek, first secretary of the Communist party, has made clear it would like most-favored-nation treatment. The policy of the U.S. administration is that an agreement should be negotiated.

The administration favors similar procedures in the case of Romania, also a maverick in the European Communist camp. However, the U.S. Congress has been unwilling to act.

The gold in question is Czechoslovakia's share of what was looted by the Nazis in Europe during the war. The United States, as a victor nation, pledged itself to seek the rightful owners. The gold was impounded.

Since the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia, however, and the subsequent nationalization of all property, including that of foreigners, American citizens have registered $72 million in claims, plus $41 million more in interest.

After the Communist takeover, the United States also confiscated a steel mill for which the previous non-Communist Czechoslovak government paid $17 million. The United States subsequently sold it for $9 million, which was applied against some of the claims. The present Prague government insists that the $17 million is deductible from any bill presented by the Americans.

There have been long and fruitless negotiations about the gold. The Czechoslovaks say the Americans agreed in 1961 on a lower claims figure. The United States did imply it might forget about the interest.

Boys Now Smoking Less, Girls Enjoying It More

By NOEL GROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Back in the '40s, it was a bad boy's game and the kids were sneaking off the grounds at noon for a quick drag and, as the Music Man put it, "tryin' to cover up the tell-tale breath with Sen-Sen."

Before that, in a predominately rural population, it was corn silk or a loosely rolled piece of toilet paper, and the woodshed if they were caught by the old man. Then came the '50s and a vanguard of the protest generation was stepping defiantly off the curb just across the street from the school and lighting up and a few girls were with them, and some of the kids were yelling for smoking rooms in the schools and recreation halls, and getting them.

By the early '60s, evidence piled up that what was once rebellion had now become all too youthful Establishment. Then, in 1964, came the bomb — not the big one but one dropped by a general, anyway — the Surgeon General's report. And now the pendulum may be swinging the other way.

Smoking, reports the U.S. Public Health Service gleefully, has undergone a slight decrease among boys.

Not a sharp decrease, admits Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health. "But we feel it is significant that all indications are that the rate of smoking among boys has not only stopped going up, but is actually turned down a little."

These tentative conclusions have been reached as the result of several studies done on a community basis but are expected to be backed up this spring by a nationwide survey on smoking habits. Most of the survey will be conducted by telephone, but the final 15 per cent will be done on a house-to-house basis in phoneless areas, to get the complete picture.

"All our indications are that the results will resemble the previous data," said Dr. Horn. "But this will give us our first real solid documentation."

Weed skepticism, which began setting in after the 1964 report, is based mostly on common ground among both youth and adults.

"I don't think there is much question," said Dr. Horn. "That it's the increasing knowledge about the health factor."

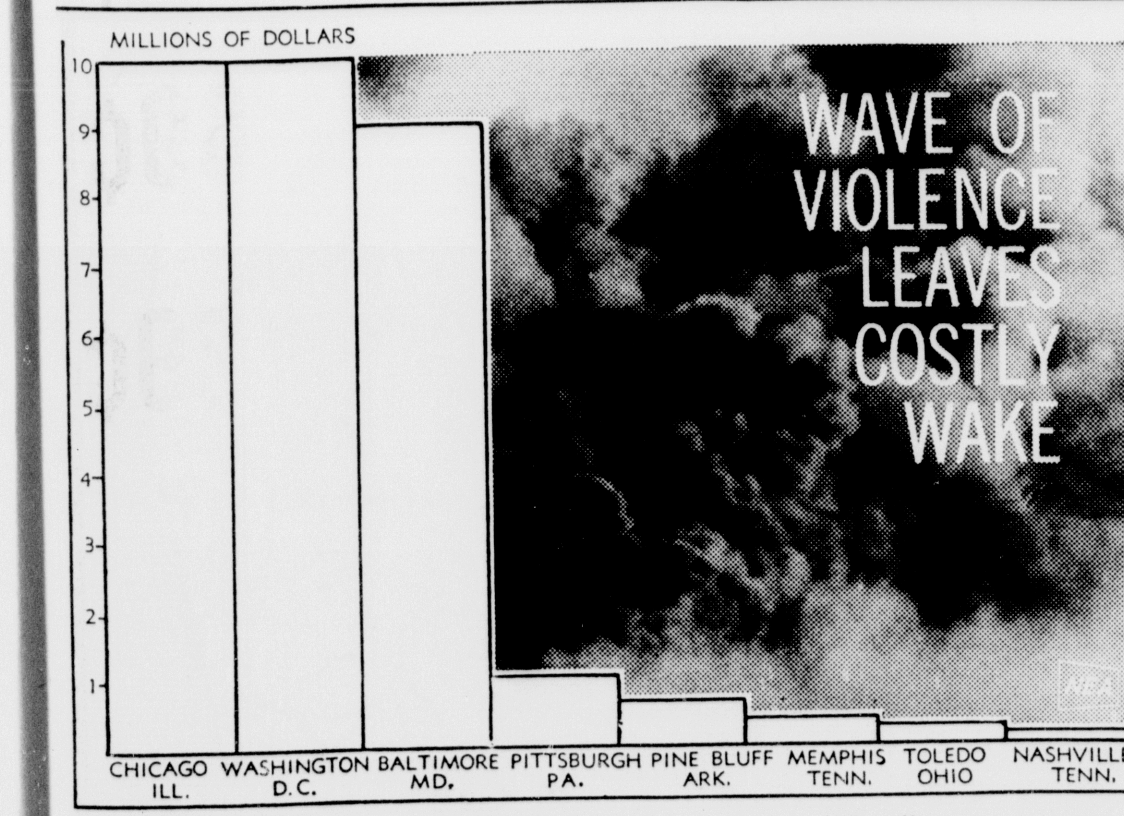

Still, the turning of a tide does not mean the winning of a battle, Public Health realizes. Young people continue to take up the smoking habit at a rate of 1.5 million a year, while adults are only quitting at 1,000,000 a year.

One point at which the health hazard argument breaks down with youth is their difficulty in projecting 30 and 40 years in the future

Highlights of this handsome ranch plan include the fireplace corner in the living room, the fine picture window at the front and the alcove dining patio. The bedroom wing includes dressing room and bathroom as private units for the master bedroom, with two other bedrooms and bath and good, well-planned closets. Kitchen, laundry and garage form a service unit at the back. Living area is 1,290 sq. ft. excluding laundry. For further information write to Illustrated Publications, 48 West 48th St., New York, N. Property insurance companies may have to pay out more than $30 million to compensate for losses caused by civil disturbances since the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., according to the American Insurance Association. Chart shows hardest-hit cities; others in Florida, the Virginias, the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama sustained an estimated $500,000 damage.

5th Infantry Division Elements to Replace Marines in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (ANF) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has announced that elements of the U.S. Army's 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) will go to Vietnam this summer.

The soldiers will replace Marines of the 27th Regimental Landing Team, which will be returning to in terms of personnel health. "Clearly," states a recent Public Health pamphlet on children and smoking, "the hazards of cigarette smoking appear different to a 17-year-old boy... than to a 57-year-old man who has been smoking for 40 years. It is difficult for a teenager to imagine being 57, ill or disabled."

New findings that disability from smoking may result even at relatively young ages may make the hazards more real to young people, say Public Health officials.

For all the indications about the lowering smoking habits among boys that the department finds encouraging, the same studies have shown that the smoking rate among girls is still on the upswing, explained as part of the continuing move toward equalization of the sexes. And there are reasons why a drop in the rate among boys will not necessarily be followed by the girls.

The men wearing the Red Diamond landed on Utah Beach in July, 1944, and soon gained fame for river crossings under fire as they successfully pushed across France. The Nazis called them "Red Devils."

During World War I, the division saw action in the Alsace, Lorraine, St. Michel and Meuse-Argonne campaigns.

In the 1960's, the division has tested the Army's latest combat techniques. It was the first mechanized infantry division organized under the ROAD (Reorganization Objective Army Divisions) concept of complete battlefield mobility and flexibility of the division structure.

"It also appears that smoking is a good weapon against an overanxious male. They get in close quarters and the girl decides to call a halt, and she can stop him by lighting a cigarette. If he persists, she can always burn him with the darn thing."

"You know, in the old days a girl could use a hat pin, but they don't wear those any more."

Ann Landers

Mate by Computer Con Game

Dear Ann Landers: I noted a somewhat cryptic message in your column today which I suspect was intended for someone who had inquired about computer type matatching. May I offer a few words of advice to those who might be considering such a thing - either for a lark or in a serious vein?

I fell for the idea in a weak and foolish moment and I have been kicking myself ever since. All the Computer Matcher did for me was take my money (no small fee) and every month after that (for one year) I received a card (from a computer) saying, "Sorry - nothing yet - maybe next month we will find the one we are looking for."

Unfortunately, there are a great many lonely people in the world who are willing to try anything on the slim chance that they will find someone who will release them from their prison of solitude.

This machine mate-finding gimmick is a con game and I hope it will soon be stopped by law. - ONCE A SUCKER

Dear Sucker: Barnum was right. There's one born every minute, and I'd like to add two to take him. Thanks for the non-testimonial.

Dear Ann Landers: I know you believe in psychiatry - and I believe in it, too. But it is not the answer to everything. On occasion you have been big enough to admit when you have been wrong. I hope, for the sake of your millions of readers, you will not hesitate to do so again.

Recently you published a letter from a teen-ager whose mother imagined she smelled odd odors. At first she thought the odor was coming from the plastic - including the telephone. A week later she decided the odor was coming from the walls, so they moved. Within a week she insisted the same odor had followed her to the new home. You suggested that the woman get psychiatric help.

If you had checked out that

Dear Reader: You are correct and I thank you for calling this to my attention. Many physicians have written to tell me, as you did, that I was wrong. My apologies for the cropper and my thanks to all who wrote.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 14-year-old girl with a mother who is driving me buggy. I wake up in the morning hearing her voice. She yells from morning till night.

Today it went like this: "You are going to give me a nervous breakdown yet. Clean up your room or I'm going to throw all the junk into the garbage can. Stand up straight, your posture is terrible. Pull down your dress. Get off the envelope."

phone. Wash your neck. Hang up your coat. Turn down the music. Cut your hair. - bla bla bla - What advice do you have for me, Ann? I think I'm the one who is going to have the nervous breakdown. - PICKED ON TEEN

Dear Teen: My advice to you is pick up your junk, stand up straight, pull down your dress, get off the phone, wash your neck, hang up your coat, turn down the music and cut your hair.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage - What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this garbage can. Stand up straight, newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped down your dress. Get off the envelope.

If You Were the Judge

Railroad Liable for Crowd of Unruly

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Betsy was part of a mass of people waiting impatiently to board a vacation train. When the gate was finally opened, leaving a clear field to the train, the mass created a mess of poor Betsy. Stamping forward, they pushed her into a space between the train and the platform and then, for good measure, packed her down into the opening as they trampled over her, like a dentist filling a tooth.

When finally rescued, Betsy sued the railroad company for her injuries.

"I was so tightly wedged in," she complained to the judge, "they practically had to use a corkscrew to get me out."

"It wasn't our fault the crowd acted like a herd of discourtseous baboons," responded a railroad company official. "We run trains and not courses in manners."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make the railroad company pay?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a carrier of passengers can be held liable for injuries caused by a crowd, when the crowd could and should have been anticipated and the injury foreseen and guarded against. (Based upon a 1965 U. S. Court of Appeals Decision)

A line was left out of the second paragraph of a story which appeared in the Daily Standard April 27 under the headline "Financial Report of MAMOS." The paragraph should have read:

According to figures made public in Jefferson City, less than nine percent of the $835,000 MAMOS budget has been paid directly to low-income beneficiaries enrolled in the adult training program which MAMOS administers in Southeast Missouri.

Mitchell explained that the program launched by the National Association of Real Estate Boards has seven major objectives backed by 50 Realtors is completing plans for the observance of Realtor Week, Sunday through May 25, Charles M. Mitchell, board president, said today.

"Careful planning has gone into this board program," Mitchell said. "Now we are underscoring the need for action. This board, along with hundreds of others in the nation, realizes that to achieve success we must undertake specific projects and bring these projects to life."

He added that the board is seeking cooperation from individuals and organizations willing to share in the enterprise. Booklets describing the program may be obtained by writing the National Association of Real Estate Boards, 1300 Connecticut Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036 or P. O. Box 309, Sikeston, Missouri 63801.

"Home is Where Security Starts, Don't Wait in '68" is the theme of annual Realtor and the link between the Realtor and the public he serves.

"Realtor is a coined term, registered under the U. S. trademark laws and can be used only by members of the National Association and its local boards," Mitchell said. "It has become synonymous and ethical conduct in the real estate calling, since all members of the association are bound by a code of ethics. Under its 30 articles, covering all aspects of real estate transactions, Realtors pledge fair treatment and their total real estate knowledge to the buyer and seller."

Scientific Vessel to Probe Ocean Floor

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The world's most scientific drilling ship sails June 15 on an 18-month voyage across two oceans seeking long-buried treasures of vast potential to man's mind and purse.

The 400-foot Scripps Institution of Oceanography vessel will draw on craft orbiting in space for navigational guidance and warning of storms as it probes in record depths in the primordial ooze that covers seven tenths of the planet.

Dr. Melvin N. A. Peterson, chief scientist for the National Science Foundation's Deep Sea Drilling Project, says the goals are both academic and practical.

The ship could find:
1. Clues to new oil fields believed bigger than any yet tapped from the continents and their fringes.

2. Precious metals—gold, silver and manganese—strewn in nodules, possibly layer upon layer for miles on either side of giant cracks in the earth's crust.

3. A history of earth, recorded in the sediments built up through the ages by the "snowfall" of plant and animal matter from the surface to the ocean floor.

Although the $12.5-million project is primarily scientific, he says, it is frankly aimed also at proving the economic benefits to be gained from exploring the ocean and its floor.

Although the ship is rigged much like those that drill for oil in the comparatively shallow waters of continental shelves, officials are hoping fervently they will not actually find oil.

Striking oil—and the gases captive in underground pools—could release a gigantic bubble to rise up through the ocean and burst at the surface, tossing the 10,500-ton ship like a raft caught in a hurricane.

"Chances are the ship would capsize," says Peterson.

"We are taking every possible precaution against finding oil, even though locating possible oil-bearing areas is one of our major goals. If our core drill bites into anything that looks like oil sands we'll pull out and move off in a hurry."

The Scripps project calls for drilling 40 to 60 holes as deep as 2,500 feet in depths as great as 20,000 feet in the Atlantic and Pacific. Aboard the ship will be 75 scientists, engineers and crewmen—including expert geologists and drillers.

Peterson believes rich deposits of minerals may lie on the slopes of the great rises—much like mountain ranges—jutting up from the floors of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

One of the goals of the project is to take samples of the sediment on the slopes.

The ship that will make this possible is the Glomar Challenger, due to sail June 15 from Orange, Tex., on its maiden voyage. The latest thing in drilling ships, it has a 142-foot-tall derrick over a 20x22-foot center well through which as much as 23,000 feet of five-inch pipe can be lowered to core into the ocean floor.

Peterson says this will be the longest drill string ever suspended from a ship or floating platform.

Cores from the rotary-drilled holes will be pulled up continuously through the drill pipe.

These cores will be the real prizes of the expedition. From the layers of sediment scientists hope to be able to reconstruct the history of the planet by dating the fossil remains of plants and animals which have died and fallen to the ocean bottom.

When evidences of oil or mineral wealth are found, the locations will be marked and the information released to industry.

The ship's first drilling test will come about July 1, when it will start coring into some mysterious humps dead center in the Gulf of Mexico. The humps, 10,000 feet below the surface of the ocean, are known to oceanographers as the Sigsbee Knolls and are believed to be salt domes formed by the pressure of sediment slowly sliding down the slopes of the Gulf basin.

The theory is that all the continents once were a single land mass and split up and began to drift apart some 200 million years ago. It is based on the way the opposite coastlines of the Atlantic Ocean seem to match, like the opposite shores of a river. The fact that the opposite coastlines of the Pacific do not match is sometimes explained as being due to an ancient land collapse in the middle of that much wider ocean.

Six More Miners Found Alive

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP)—Six coal miners, isolated deeply in a flooded mine shaft and presumed dead for nearly 10 days, were rescued today. All were termed in "good shape."

"Thank you, God," said Larry Lynch, the first to reach the mine entrance in pre-dawn darkness this morning. "You have delivered us from this living death. I made a vow all six of us would be out here together to thank the Lord."

Four other men trapped in the same area were found dead and their bodies were brought to the mine opening about 8 a.m. (EDT), about four hours after the six reached safety.

One report yet to be confirmed was that two of the dead men drowned while trying to run from the wall of water as it broke into the mine. There was no report on how the other two died but officials said they presumed they drowned. Autopsies will be performed later today.

Another 15, who were trapped just before noon on May 6 when water poured in from an adjoining and abandoned mine, were rescued last Saturday.

The six paused for prayer at the mine entrance, received quick medical checkups and were sped by ambulances to Sacred Heart hospital in Richwood, 15 miles away.

"Who said miracles don't happen?" shouted one miner as he alighted from an ambulance at the hospital's entrance. "People say God is dead but he's alive and here with us."

The men sipped hot chocolate in their hospital beds. All appeared cheerful and unharmed but hospital authorities barred newsmen from talking to the men while they chatted with their families.

There had been no contact with the men since the water rushed in from the abandoned mine just before noon on May 6. A hole was drilled through the mountain to a point where the men were thought to be and touched water. Officials presumed they had drowned.

One of the rescued men told officers of the Gauley Coal and Coke Co., operator of the mine, they had rationed the sandwiches with them.

They said they also drank the murky water which flooded the passageway. A doctor at the hospital said the water had to be considered contaminated. He said the danger of typhoid and dysentery exists.

A search team spotted tracks this morning on the other side of receding water in the passageway and followed them to the men. The trapped men had left their underground prison and walked to the edge of the water as it receded.

The six then followed the search team on their hands and knees for 800 yards to a mine cart. The cart took them to a conveyor belt which they rode to the mine entrance. The cart skipped the track but one official said the three men in it "were in good enough shape to put it back on the track."

At the three-story hospital, the men were shielded from newsmen while doctors checked them and they talked with their families.

"Thank God he's alive," said Mrs. Okie Galford of Baltimore, sister of John Moore, Jr. "We gave up hope after all this time, and we still can't believe it. He's my only brother and he better not go down that damned mine again."

Newsmen got a glimpse of the men who appeared cheerful as they sipped hot chocolate in their hospital beds. None appeared in poor condition.

Beside's Moore, the other five rescued were Joe E. Fitzwater, 33, of Rupert, whose brother barely escaped being trapped; Jennings H. Lilly, 30, of Mt. Nebo; Edward F. Scarbro, 38, of Richwood; Gene H. Martin, 34, of Clintonville; and Larry Lynch, 28, of Richwood. All of their homes are near the mine.

"You can tell the whole world that the Fitzwater family is the happiest darned family in the world today," said Mrs. Ernest Fitzwater when she grabbed a newsmen in the hospital corridor.

The men had to crawl 800 yards through the 36-inch high tunnel to reach a battery-operated mine cart. This took them to a conveyor belt, normally used for hauling coal, and they rode it a half-mile to the mine's entrance.

H. E. Sundstrom of the Gauley Coal and Coke Co., which operates the mine, said the car hit a deep hole and jumped the track but he said the three men in it "were in good enough shape to lift it and put it back on the track."

Sundstrom explained that the water which flooded the passage and kept the men pinned in nearly ten days of darkness was drinkable but he pointed out it did have a slight acid content.

Mine officials were mystified on the source of air to the men. "They must have had air coming in from somewhere," he said.

Condition Improves

James C. Bennett, 20, St. Louis, who was listed in critical condition in Missouri Delta Community Hospital following an accident May 9, is now listed in fair condition.

The car he was driving struck a tree at Dorothy and School streets. He reportedly suffered a ruptured spleen, lacerations to the liver, broken ribs, broken jaws and a collapsed lung.

He was alone in the car at the time of the accident, Sikeston police reported.

Tornado Siege Kills 70, Injures Hundreds

The most vicious onslaught of tornadoes this year slammed across the nation's midsection leaving some 70 persons dead and a score of others missing today. Property damage ran into the millions.

Hundreds of persons were injured.

The clawing winds smashed structures in a nine-state area Wednesday evening and night. The toll climbed slowly today as rescue workers poked through the ruins.

Arkansas, a state periodically plagued by twisters, was hardest hit, with 43 dead. Iowa counted 14 dead and 20 missing. Illinois counted 10 deaths from twisters and severe weather and Missouri and Indiana 1 each.

The university city of Jonesboro, Ark., reported 34 dead and 350 injured by midmorning. The tornado bypassed Arkansas State University, however, and all its 6,000 students escaped injury.

Five of the communities hit in Arkansas—Oil Trough, Tuckerman, Manila, Marion and Black Oak, are in the state's tornado alley, battered by frequent storms.

In northeastern Iowa, Charles City, Oelwein and Maynard were hardest hit.

The Red Cross estimated 60 per cent of Charles City was damaged, with 90 businesses wrecked or damaged, 300 homes destroyed and hundreds of persons injured.

In central and Southern Illinois, four were killed at Wapella and four in Freeburg. Two additional Illinois deaths were attributed to storms.

The Red Cross said Wapella, a community of 500 situated 30 miles north of Decatur, Ill., suffered 90 per cent damage. Every building in the small community except the high school was damaged or destroyed.

The rash of tornadoes — the Weather Bureau reported more than 30 in a nine-state area from Kansas to Ohio — erupted as a strong cold front clashed with warm, humid temperatures in the mid 80s. Shortly before 7 p.m. the wave of twisters raked northeastern Iowa. A funnel cloud roared through downtown Charles City around 4 p.m. Eleven were dead when the storm was over and, police reported, most buildings in an eight-block area were demolished.

Only an hour later a twister whipped into Oelwein, 50 miles from Charles City, striking first at the south edge of the community and then blasting a path through the business district. The highway patrol said two persons were killed in the city, two were missing and a child was killed just north of Oelwein, ne city.

National Guard troops were called out both in Arkansas and Iowa. Additional doctors, nurses and blood were flown to stricken parts of Iowa from as far away as Minneapolis.

The storms in Arkansas poured more heavy rain in sections of that state still flooded from heavy downpours earlier in the week.

Tornadoes or severe thunderstorms swept almost the entire length of Illinois, starting before noon Wednesday and continuing into the night.

Hardest hit in Illinois was Freeburg, near East St. Louis, where four died and scores were reported injured.

Two died at Wapella, in central Illinois. Communication was lacking with Wapella, and authorities feared the toll there would go higher. An elderly woman died of a heart attack after a tornado swooped across Natrona, also in central Illinois. A University of Illinois student was electrocuted by a flooded traffic signal in a street

Champaign street intersection. Severe thunderstorms sweeping western Kansas and Missouri unleashed several tornadoes in that region as well. One man was killed near Joplin, Mo., when a bolt of lightning struck a tree and jumped to a tractor he was driving.

Tornadoes swept through central Indiana into the night hours, causing several injuries and considerable property damage southwest of Indianapolis. Baseball-size hailstones pounded some communities just west of the Indiana capital during the storms.

Indiana State Police said Shirley Butcher, 27, was killed when a tornado struck her house trailer near Wabash in northeastern Indiana. Eleven other trailers in the court were demolished by other occupants escaped serious injury.

Injuries and property damage also were reported at Peru, Ind.

Scattered Damage in Region From Lightning and Wind

Howling winds accompanied by rain, thunder and lightning night making repairs. Only about 20 rural customers between through southeast Missouri Hunterville and Parma were still Wednesday night but the area without power this morning.

A line outside near Bertrand escaped serious damage.

A small funnel caused heavy put about 50 customers out of damage to two buildings in service there last night, Neelyville, and seriously injured Stephenson added.

In Sikeston, damage was done to a house. Jim Sherwood, 834 to a hospital in Poplar Bluff, the Anderson, reported that Missouri highway patrol lightning struck near his house, damaged his television antenna and entered the house. He also said high winds blew shingles off his house.

Lightning struck at the Vernon Kelley residence at 621 Sikes at 10:46 p.m. causing damage to a garbage disposal unit. Firemen were called when the Kelley family smelled smoke but there was no fire.

Electrical transformers near the Little Big Dollar Store on South Main, and on Maplewood were damaged by lightning last night. E. R. (Dick) Inman, director of the board of municipal utilities, reported. The transformers will be replaced today. Power shortages occurred in the Midland public housing project near the Lee Hunter school, in the South Park housing project along Magnolia street, along Baker Lane, and along Maplewood.

"None of the customers were without power for much more than 20 minutes," Inman said. Bill Proffer, manager of Missouri Utilities Co., reported that lightning damaged transformers in Smith Addition, Miner and east of Miner. The transformer in Miner caused power failure to one customer, Joe Barker. The other transformer east of Miner caused power failure to George Taylor. The Smith Addition transformer caused a shortage to eight customers.

Morris Gaines, manager of Missouri Utilities in Charleston, reported that a utility pole blew down in Charleston at 11 p.m. near the Lincoln School causing an outage in one section for five minutes. About 50 rural customers between Charleston and Anaxist also were knocked out of service by the storm.

John Donoho, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., reported about 15 drop lines affecting individual lines were damaged by the storm.

Heavy winds causing limbs and trees to fall on a small telephone cable at Lilbourn caused a curtailment of service last night to about 50 customers in that area, Donoho said.

Another House To Be Built

Another house will be built in the leased housing program. Don Kellett, Sikeston, was given a letter of intent by the Sikeston Housing Authority to build a two-family duplex house on the 400 block of Wilson St.

The unit is the only one approved except for the five four-unit apartments under construction on Cresap and Harris by the Vivian J. Potashnick family.

Selections available at the public library will change and will be increased if there is sufficient demand, Librarian Lenora Norman said.

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops launched strong attacks today north of Saigon and in the Central Highlands as the U.S. Command announced that more American soldiers were killed in combat last week than in any week of the Vietnam war.

U.S. Command said 562 Americans were killed, 19 more than the previous record in the week of Feb. 11-17. The U.S. Command reported 5,552 enemy killed last week, no record, while South Vietnamese headquarters said 675 government troops were killed, their third highest weekly toll of the war.

A U.S. spokesman said much of the American death toll resulted from heavy action in the northernmost provinces, where U.S. Marines fought several battles last week around Dong Ha, 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone. The week also saw hard fighting in and around Saigon as American and South Vietnamese forces crushed the second enemy offensive within four months against the capital.

Allied forces reported nearly 400 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed Wednesday in clashes from the canal-laced Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. And today there were reports of more fighting on three sides of Kontum, a key provincial capital, and near Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country.

The Communist command appeared to be trying to keep up the military pressure to strengthen its bargaining position at the Paris peace talks. It sent troops storming at American and Australian positions and South Vietnamese outposts.

Near Khe Sanh, North Vietnamese troops fought U.S. Marines from bunkers for 7 1/2 hours.

The heaviest fighting was around Kontum City where an allied force reported 147 North Vietnamese killed in five hours of action Wednesday during which not an allied soldier was killed.

That battle was seven miles northeast of Kontum City. Today, in the darkness before dawn, North Vietnamese troops about 20 miles west of the city opened up with mortars, rocket-propelled grenades, flamethrowers and small arms on a patrol base and an outpost of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division within 400 yards of each other.

The defenders of the outpost were forced back to the patrol base, which retaliated with mortars and artillery while Air Force twin-engine AC47s armed with rapid-firing guns sprayed thousands of rounds into the enemy positions under the light of flares.

As dawn broke, the North Vietnamese pulled back but an hour later renewed the mortar attack on the patrol base. Gradual shelling continued during the day.

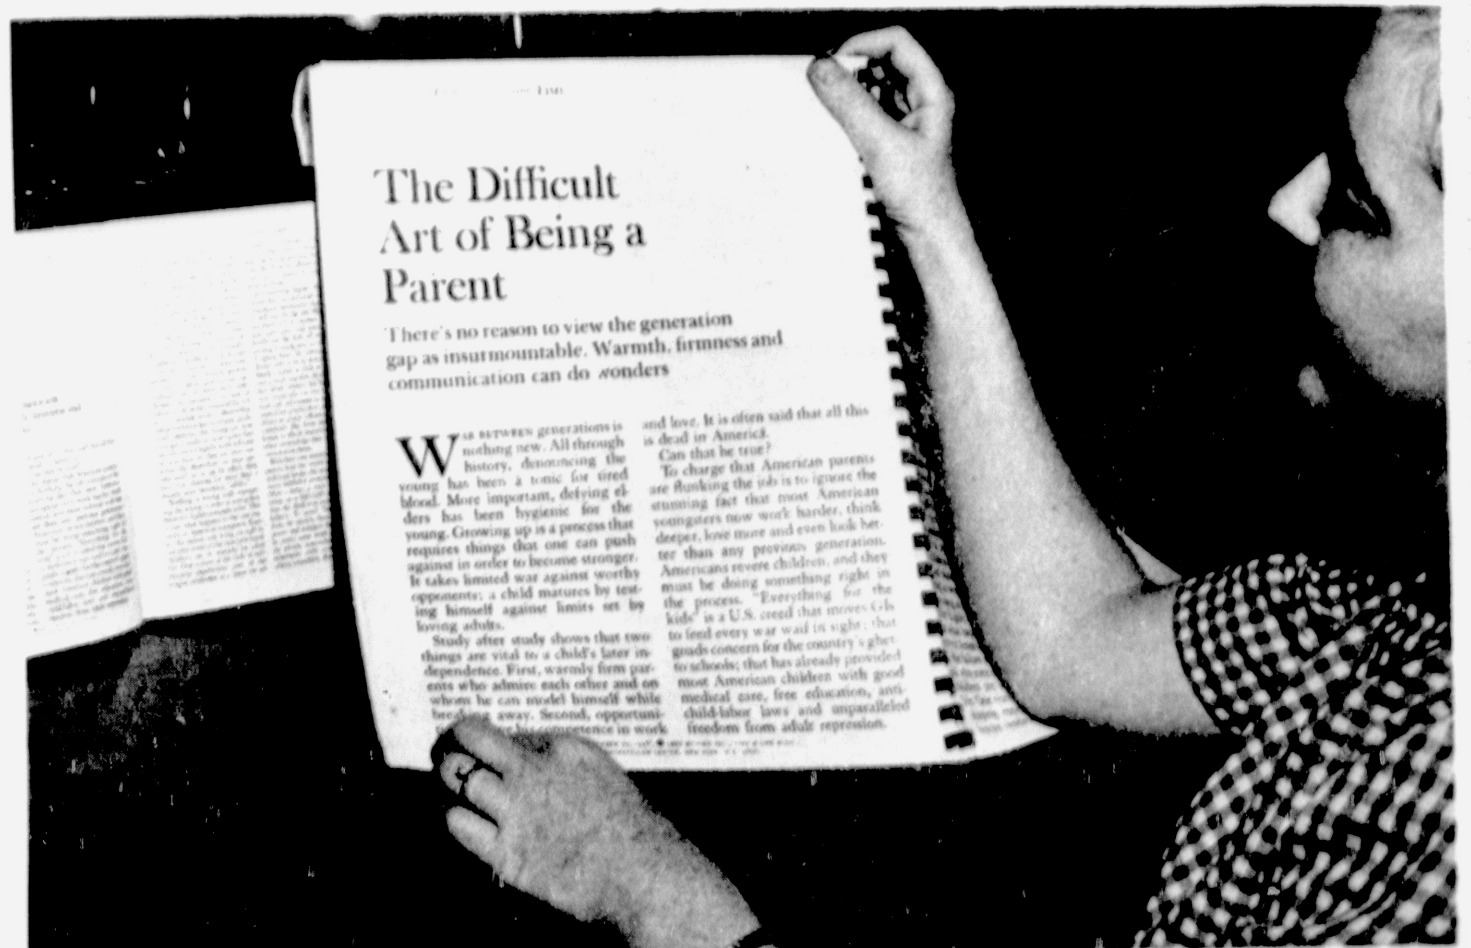

Australian troops manning a patrol base 25 miles northeast of Saigon threw back hundreds of charging North Vietnamese as the enemy launched "two determined waves of ground attacks about two hours apart" early today, the Australian Command reported.

The enemy covered their infantry assault with a steady barrage of rocket and mortar fire, but Australian and U.S. artillery fired back, and U.S. fighter-bombers raked the attackers.

The air campaign against North Vietnam's southern panhandle meanwhile appeared to be slackening off despite improving weather conditions. A tabulation showed U.S. planes flew 1,513 missions against the area during the first two weeks of May, 127 less than they flew in poorer weather during the last two weeks of April.

U.S. spokesmen refused to comment when asked if the reduction was a conciliatory gesture to North Vietnam because of the preliminary peace talks in Paris.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

COMPENSATION FOR RIOT VICTIMS

A Brooklyn haberdasher has filed a $250,000 claim against the city of New York, charging that the police failed to protect his store from looters on the night of April 5. He says the police ignored a burglar alarm, watched while the looters carried $75,000 worth of goods from his store, and ignored his telephone calls pleading for protection.

City Controller Mario Procaccino says he has received many inquiries about filing such claims and "we anticipate receiving more."

New York City is in such desperate financial straits that this will be bad news for Mayor John Lindsay, who has been receiving a certain amount of acclaim lately for the "restraint" used by his police during the recent disorders. He was quite scornful in his comments on Chicago Mayor Daley's statement that the police would shoot arsonists and looters in the future.

Of course, if a city decides that it is sound policy to turn some property over to the looters and arsonists in order to prevent devastation, the owners of the sacrificed property surely ought to be compensated.

New York's taxpayers had better prepare themselves to finance Mayor Lindsay's hesitation to enforce the laws.

HEARNES FOR GOVERNOR

If there was ever any doubt whether or not Warren E. Hearnes would make a good governor that doubt has been erased by the manner in which he has conducted the office since he was inaugurated in January of 1965.

Warren E. Hearnes has not only been a good governor, but in our opinion an outstanding one. His accomplishments have been many and his performance as executive officer of this great state has been refreshing.

Perhaps the thing that we like best about the man is his approach to problems. He accepts each problem as a challenge - standing firm when it is needed and giving a little when necessary to accomplish a goal.

He promised a "fresh new look" in Jefferson City and it was long overdue.

Governor Hearnes came into the national limelight a couple of years ago when he dared to suggest that Missouri and other states assume more responsibility of solving their own problems rather than leaving it to Washington. He believes strongly that the greatest government is where the people, themselves, have an active role - on the local level and on the state level. He puts strong emphasis on improving local government.

The Governor has seen much of his proposed legislation approved by the legislature. In the field of education there has been increase in aid to local school districts under the School Foundation Program; improved teacher retirement system; and significant increase in Junior College and higher education support.

Under his guidance our highways have been improved and a law was enacted establishing a turnpike authority.

Governor Hearnes has been instrumental in obtaining more industry for the state and most notable in this area is the huge aluminum reduction plant to be located near New Madrid. He played an important part in helping to get this industry for Missouri.

He led a successful campaign to secure more funds for mental health and expansion of centers for treating the mentally retarded.

He recommended that there be no increase in taxation. Not only has there been no increase, but a state three cents property tax was repealed. The Department of revenue was reorganized to provide increased collections with no increase in tax rates.

LOCALLY Gov. Hearnes is the man responsible for the establishment of an automobile license bureau at the city hall in Malden which provides a convenient service to residents of portions of Dunklin, Stoddard and New Madrid Counties. This one act alone should merit Warren Hearnes strong support throughout the tri-county area.

The prompt manner in which he ordered National Guardsmen to Kansas City to control race riots won Warren Hearnes the admiration of all Missourians who believe that law and order must prevail if society as we know it is to survive.

We have outlined only a few of the accomplishments and reasons why we support the nomination and re-election of Warren E. Hearnes as Governor of Missouri. Missouri needs his leadership for another four years.

JUSTICE MARSHALL: EXCELLENT CHOICE

The appointment of Thurgood Marshall to the Supreme Court deserves speedy confirmation by the Senate.

Any delaying tactics would not only be a refusal to recognize the last 100 years of America history but would be a futile attempt to block the progress of the next 100.

Marshall's qualifications are unquestioned. His experience and service, both in private practice and on the federal judgeship level, are outstanding. He is probably more familiar with the workings of the high court than any other lawyer in the country, having argued 32 cases before it as counsel to the NAACP and 19 as U.S. solicitor general.

There is some speculation that Marshall's appointment will lead to the informal reserving of a "Negro seat" on all future courts, just as for most of this century the court has included one Roman Catholic and one Jew among its nine members.

It is to be hoped this will not be the case. Supreme Court justices - indeed, all public servants - are expected to be Americans first and Jews, Catholics, Protestants, Negroes, atheists or whatever second. They are supposed to be selected on the basis of their abilities, not their religion, race or political pulling power.

Negroes have every right to be proud that the son of a Pullman car steward has attained the country's highest appointive office. But the nation will have attained something far more significant when they, and everyone else, can simply refer to Mr. Justice Marshall without any other descriptive adjectives before the word "American."

NEW REORGANIZATION BILL REVEALS PAY DIFFERENCES

Recently during a Senate debate on reorganizing Congress, an amendment designed to eliminate "pirating" of one house's committee workers by another was voted down, notes Tax Foundation, Inc. The reorganization bill which, if finally approved, would add an approximate $5 million to the current $135 million annual cost of operating Congress, passed the Senate overwhelmingly. It was the first reorganization bill in 20 years to gain one House's approval.

Sen. Ellender of Louisiana who introduced the amendment declared that the difference between top pay scales for House and Senate committee workers was not eliminated by the reorganization measure. Existing rules, he said, do not enable him to pay the same salary to a committee attorney as a House committee is able to pay.

As a result, said the Senator, an attorney who had been with his committee was able to get higher wages from a House committee. "He resigned so that he would get $25,890 from the House," said Ellender.

He noted that House committee chairman can pay staff people "any amount up to $25,890", while a Senate committee chairman's top pay limitation is "...not more than $24,460."

Under the Senate's reorganization bill, each standing committee of both houses would be able to add three new committee staff jobs. There are 36 standing committees (both houses combined) and, adding these extras, would cost additional millions of salary dollars.

The reorganization debate also revealed that spending for committee inquiries and investigations had increased from $4.8 million in the 84th Congress (1955-56) to an estimated $5.9 million for the 90th's first session.

Another item of Congressional expense: House and Senate committees reported spending $718, 278 on overseas travel in 1966. The Congressional Record shows that three House members took foreign trips after deciding to retire (two of them after Congress adjourned), the third after being defeated for re-election.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) - My bathroom has many advantages.

It is cozy, well-heated, has comfortable seating and a ready reference library that will at least measure up to that found in the average dentist's office.

But for 20 years I have tried to find peace in that bathroom - and it simply can't be done.

Every American boy is inspired by the fact he has a chance to grow up and become president of the United States - or at least earn enough money to have a bathroom of his very own.

This is unlikely, particularly in the case of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who has an 11th child on the way. If he yearns for a bathroom of his own, he'd do better to forget the White House and set his sights on taking over the Pentagon.

When I graduated to a two-bathroom apartment two decades ago, I patted the tiled walls in joy. I thought that at least I had achieved one of my lifelong dreams - a stall shower of my own, a place where I could come and sit and brood and fill out my income tax returns undisturbed.

It was to be my private ivory tower, my monk's cell, my hermitage, my retreat from the world that seems always too much with us.

What a delusion!

It started with a simple question from Frances, my wife: "You don't mind if I hang a few stockings to dry in your stall shower, do you?"

"No, of course not," I answered.

I was like the kindly Arab who let the camel stick its nose into his tent to get warm and soon found himself crowded out by the animal.

My bathroom is now a forest of bottled lady lotions and dripping feminine hygiene. It has become a laundry for Frances and our teen-age daughter, Tracy Ann.

They wash their hair there, too, do their fingernails there, and use it as a conference room to cook up family plots against me.

Our cat, Lady Dottie, now also has her box in my bathroom. Where else? Believe me, friend, you may have had trouble in your life, but you don't know what trouble is until, on a harried Monday morning, you rush into a stall shower and stub your toe on a steel pan full of moist cat gravel.

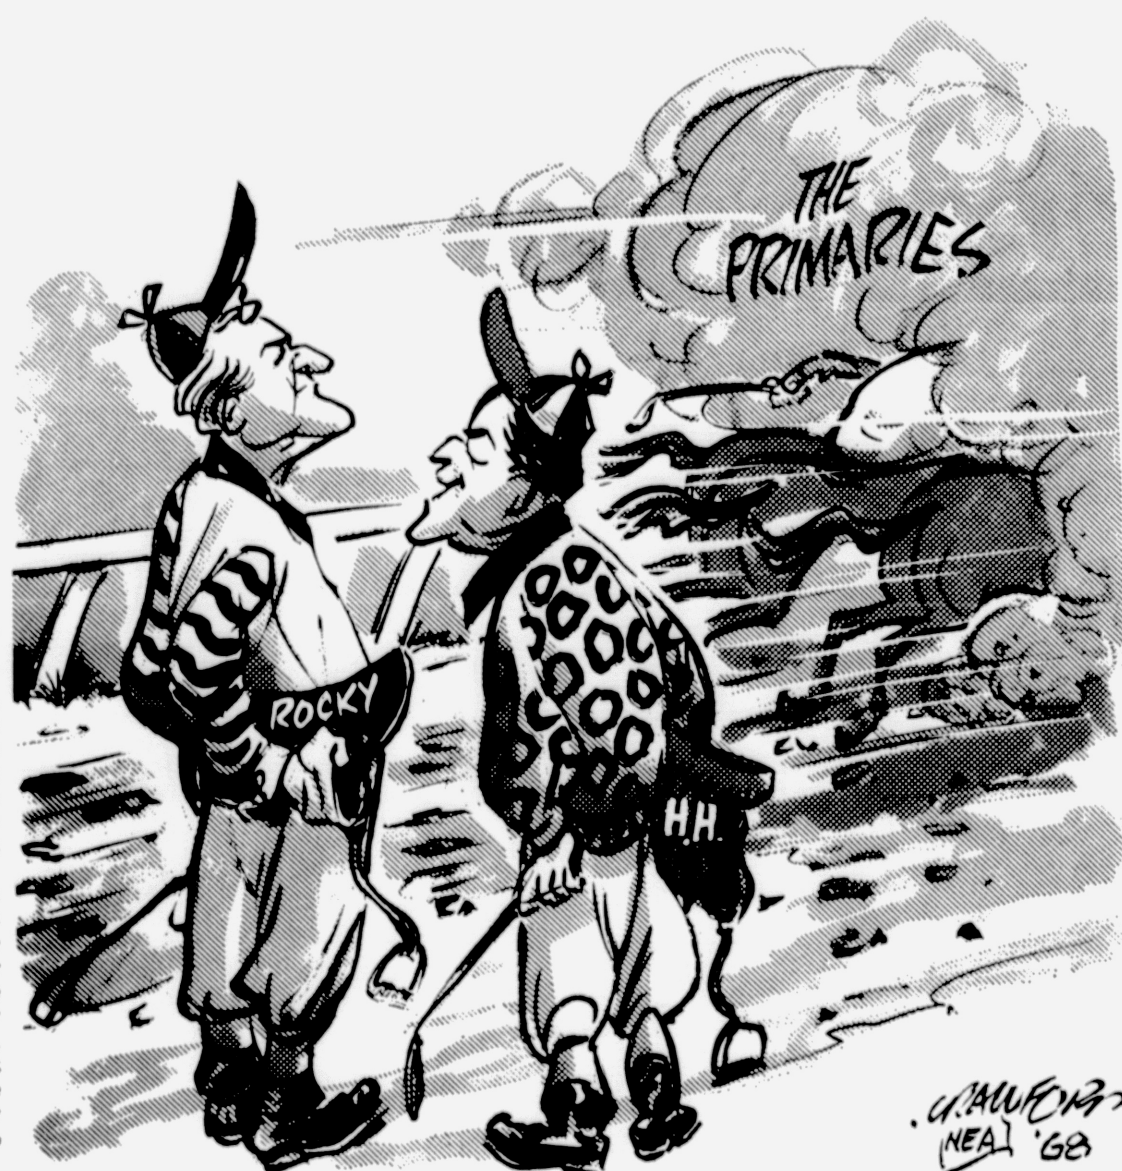

Now, when someone knocks on my bathroom door, I never know whether it'll be a member of the family, a visiting Elk, the neighborhood scissors grinder, or a kid selling Girl Scout cookies.

But whoever it is, each asks the same thing in a tone of complaint and accusation: "What are you doing in there?"

What am I doing in there?

I'm doing what those diplomats are doing in Paris. Just trying to find a little peace.

"At Least They Can't Say We're Drugged!"

individual independence.

There is hope however, that the young people who see their earnings taken for all manner of political schemes will awaken in time to vote "no" to most of the fantasies of the tax and spend planners.

Some leaders in Congress are already saying it is time to "stop, look and listen." The world has never seen such prodigal public spending as the U. S. taxpayer is asked to sanction.

Driving in a dense fog the motorist followed the tail light ahead of him for a full hour, free from worry. Suddenly the red beacon ahead stopped and the two cars collided sharply.

"Hey, why don't you put your hand out when you're going to stop?" yelled the man to the driver ahead of him.

The angry reply came: "Why the hell should I? I'm in my own garage!"

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON SAY: FBI has amazing array of evidence of King's assassin; evidence increases that Ray was hired; he could be dead or in a Mexican village.

WASHINGTON -- The FBI's failure to apprehend the assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King has led to reports that J. Edgar Hoover is not interested in catching the murderer. The reports are based partly on the fact that Hoover and King were not on good terms. Hoover having publicly branded King as "The most notorious liar in the world."

We have checked into the operations of the FBI in this respect and are convinced that it is conducting perhaps the most painstaking, exhaustive manhunt ever before undertaken in the United States. Its G-men have checked every bar ever patronized by James Earl Ray, every flophouse he ever stopped at, every Cantina in Mexico he ever visited. It has collected an amazing array of evidence, all linking Ray with the murder.

That he has not been found may be due, first, to the possibility that he himself was murdered by those who hired him to kill King; or, second, that he is hiding in some remote Mexican village.

If he has money -- and apparently he had -- Ray might be able to live in a distant part of Mexico indefinitely. The Mexico City police are efficient and cooperative, but police in the remote areas are not. In some villages few Mexicans can read or write, and radio news of the outside world does not penetrate.

DETECTIVE STORY CRIMINAL What the FBI has established about King's assassin was that he was a professional killer who had studied the suspense writing of Ian Fleming and Ayn Rand. His pseudonym, Eric Starvo Galt, for instance, was taken from both authors.

Yet, while a student of crime he was also a bungler. For he left behind the murder rifle with his fingerprints on it and, wrapped around the rifle a bedspread which contained strands of his hair. He also left behind a blue zipper bag containing a brush with hair matching those on the bedspread.

All the evidence we have been able to gather points to the probability that Ray was hired to kill Dr. King. He broke out of the Missouri State Penitentiary on April 23, 1967, after boasting to fellow prisoners that he intended to make a big "score" on the outside. He remarked to one inmate that he might try to collect a rumored $1 million bounty that supposedly had been offered by a "businessmen's group" for the death of Dr. King.

Four months later, on Aug. 30, 1967, he opened a safe deposit box in the Birmingham Trust National Bank and suddenly began passing out crisp $20 bills like a big spender. He paid $499 for dancing instruction, then quit after only a few lessons. He spent $395 for mail-order photographic equipment that he didn't know how to operate.

He shelled out money for a bartending course, but show no interest in working behind any bar. He also took a course in lock-picking from a correspondence school in Michigan. His white Mustang cost $1,995, which he paid in cash. He drove it from Mexico to Montreal, from Los Angeles to New Orleans.

Occasionally he slipped $220 to bar girls and prostitutes. In Mexico he lived with a prostitute in small towns like Jalisco and Puerto Vallarta where prices were cheap. Once he posed in sun glasses for a picture with his Mexican prostitute. In Los Angeles, he advertised in the hippie newspaper that he would like to meet "a passionate married woman." He also paid $1 to the Swinger's club for the names and addresses of five girls.

All told, Ray spent an estimated $10,000 in seven months. Yet he never held a job, and committed no crimes following his escape from the Missouri Penitentiary that the FBI has discovered. Previously he had been involved in a long list of filling station and other robberies. But after his escape he became another Lee Harvey Oswald. Meanwhile, he sought to establish a new identity as Eric Starvo Galt.

CAREFUL PLANS

It seems likely that Ray planned the murder of Dr. King for several months. He finally purchased the Remington Rifle in Birmingham on March 30, then moved to a boarding house in Atlanta. In his room, agents found a map of Atlanta with four locations circled.

They were Dr. King's residence, his headquarters at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Ray's boarding house and the spot where he abandoned his Mustang after the murder. In the middle of the map was also a clear thumbprint from Ray's right thumb.

Evidently, Ray changed his mind about wlaying King in Atlanta and followed him to Memphis instead. After all the elaborate planning and the careful creation of a new identity, Ray left behind in Memphis the murder rifle, binoculars and a bag full of toilet articles.

If white extremists put up the blood money it was probably not the Ku Klux Klan or the minute men, for they are an impatient lot who would not have waited for several months for Ray

Bulldogs End 9-4; Lose 6 Seniors Javier Declared "Sultan of Swat"

The Sikeston high school baseball team ended its season last Thursday by bowing out of the state tournament to a tough West Plains team 5-2. The loss completed the Bulldogs' record at 9 wins and 4 losses.

N. P. McDaniel, coach of the Dogs, labeled the year as a fairly good one for the school. He said:

"The team broke slow from the gate due to the fact there were several underclassmen in the starting lineup.

"Once they got their feet wet with a little experience the team began to play the caliber of baseball that they should. Due to the fact that the team had so many games rained out it was not until the end of the season that they really got rolling."

Coach McDaniels said that he expects the team to be as strong if not stronger next year. He expects great things from the young pitchers with a year of high school baseball behind them.

There are six seniors graduating. They are Webb Edwards, Mike Garner, Pat Hart, Gary Wiss, Roger McDaniel and Ed Felker. These boys started most of the games and will leave holes for Coach McDaniel to fill. McDaniel said that he thought the team would be hurt the most by the absence of Garner. He was the team leader.

Mike led the team in four hitting departments and shared in two others. He also hit safely in 13 games for the Dogs, the only player to do so. He led in hitting, .561, hits, 23; home runs 4 and runs batted in with 14.

Garner shared the team's lead in doubles, five, and runs scored, 15, with another senior Roger McDaniel. McDaniel also led the team in triples with two, and blasted a batting average of .488, the second highest on the team. Stan Sorrells and Wiss were the other team leaders. Sorrells led in times at bat with 43 and Wiss with walks by drawing six. Sorrells is a sophomore.

The Bulldogs achieved notable marks as they pounded the opposing pitchers for 114 hits for a

Attendance Falling In Major Leagues

NEW YORK (AP) - Big league baseball, already committed to expanding to 21 teams in 1969, is taking another step backward at the gate this season, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

Attendance so far in 1968 is 37 per cent under 1967 and almost 10 per cent behind the pace of the majors' peak year in 1966 when they totaled 25 million paid admissions for the first time in history.

This year's aggregate is 3,663,351 compared to 3,783,343 in the same number of games last season and 4,044,609 in 1966. This represents a drop of 13,992 from '67 and 38,258 from 1966.

The National League, whose attendance declined more than two million last season, is off by 122,404. The American League deficit is only 17,888. The AL had an all-time high of 11,363,923 last year when it had one of its closest pennant races ever.

Eleven clubs reported 1968 decreases, a number of them citing reasons that included inclement weather, racial unrest, losing streaks and fewer doubleheaders than last year.

The Atlanta Braves show the largest decrease, 111,307. The Braves, who shifted from Milwaukee to Atlanta in 1966, have pulled 156,000 customers through the turnstiles in '68. In the same number of home games in 1967, they attracted 238,006 and in 1966 it was 233,877.

Others behind last year's pace are Cincinnati, off 79,928; Baltimore 61,181; the New York Yankees, 54,825; California 51,799; Detroit 51,519; St. Louis 21,488; Los Angeles 15,423; San Francisco 15,122; the Chicago White Sox 5,743 and Philadelphia, 5,361.

The White Sox, who played their first of nine scheduled games in Milwaukee Wednesday night, are averaging only slightly higher than 7,000 spectators in Chicago. They are rumored to be considering shifting to the Wisconsin city.

CONGERS, N. Y. AP - Former New York Yankee catcher Drescher died Wednesday at the age of 45.

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) - Don Eddy, assistant coach at East Tennessee State, was chosen head basketball coach at Eastern Illinois University Tuesday.

Julian Javier will never be mistaken for Babe Ruth... but the slender St. Louis Cardinal is the Sultan of Swat today in the starry eyes of a McKeesport, Pa., youngster.

Javier borrowed a page from the Ruth legend Wednesday night after a hospital visit to 6-year-old Mark Sandusky, whose legs were crushed in a recent automobile accident.

The boy, who might never walk normally again according to his doctors, asked Javier to hit a home run for him in the Cards' game at Pittsburgh.

Javier obliged in the fourth inning, slugging his first homer of the season to back Steve Carlton's four-hit pitching and give the Cardinals their second successive 1-0 victory over the Pirates.

"I wasn't thinking about it," Javier said afterward. "But when I was running around the bases, I thought, 'Look what I did!'"

The Chicago Cubs caught Los Angeles from behind 5-3 Cincinnati trimmed the New York Mets 3-0 and San Francisco topped Houston 7-3 in other National League action. The Atlanta-Philadelphia game was rained out.

In the American League,

Baltimore slugged Detroit 10-8. California beat the Chicago White Sox 4-2 at Milwaukee, and Boston downed Washington 6-4 and the New York Yankees played Cleveland to a 2-2 rain-curtailed standoff. The Oakland-Minnesota game was washed out by rain.

There are no practice swings, nor a line up between the ball and hole. Mr. First swings and very unexpectedly the ball goes in the hole on the first try. When this happens most beginners scream awhile, then jumps up and down. Hoping for another hole-in-one. Mr. First moves on.

Last we see the go-off. He is the less wanted type of customer. Too many times he is too careless and damages the property. Mr. Goof acts as if he is carefully choosing his club, and in the process breaks a light on the clubhouse. Now he places the ball on the pad and swings.

When swinging, he hits the pad, pulling it up. He goes on to hit the ball and hits it so hard that it goes through a window of the church. All Mr. Goof intended to do was have a good and carefree time, not destroy the course. After he recovers the ball, he shoots and goes on.

As I watch these types of people, I cry and laugh nervously.

Now if you would like to meet all these interesting golfers come to PLAYTIME MINIATURE GOLF COURSE. E. Malone and Broadway, Sikeston. Advertisement.

K.C. Seeks Med School Geared To Patient Care

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City wants a University of Missouri Medical school that will place emphasis on patient care, the Missouri Commission on Higher Education was told Tuesday.

"The accent will be related to the kinds of things that are needed by human beings," said Homer C. Wadsworth, consultant to the General Hospital and Medical Center Corporation. He said the proposed medical school would serve the western third of Missouri.

Wadsworth said the Kansas City medical school would differ from some, such as Washington university in St. Louis, which he claimed puts its emphasis on the basic sciences and research. More than half the Washington University staff in internal medicine are Ph. D.'s rather than M.D.'s Wadsworth said.

"This is the last city of any size in the country without a

Sewing Machine Ad May Be Bait

ST. LOUIS -- Norman H. Anderson, Attorney General, stated the bait is a want ad in a newspaper. He said this is how a typical one reads:

"1966 (Well-known sewing machine) console - walnut console w/dial-a-stitch for fancy patterns, zigzag, button holes and so on. Purchase price $8 payments $7.50, new guarantee. (Dealer) (Telephone No.)."

Anderson said if you call the number listed, you will be told that a company representative will stop by your home to demonstrate the machine. But when he arrives, he has two machines, the one advertised, plus a new one of an obscure brand.

You explain to him that you are interested in the repossessed machine because its advertised price is only $60. "Well, all right," he replies, "but, to be honest, the machine is not much good."

Anderson said in most cases the zigzag attachment is ugly and not an original part of the machine. While the representative is demonstrating the machine, the thread spool falls off. He laughingly tells you that the spool was attached to the machine with a bobby pin. The machine rattles. Wouldn't you, he suggests, be ashamed to have such a machine in your home? Finally, the machine breaks down entirely. No one, the salesman says, wants a machine that does not work. Then he makes the switch.

Anderson said he now demonstrates the other machine. You probably have never heard of the brand, but it seems to run smoothly. It has a built-in zigzag and makes many fancy stitches.

The regular price for the machine, he says, is $269.95. But he offers you a special bargain. You can have the machine for only $199.95 - a saving of $70.

Anderson stated if you buy, you will become one of many Missouri consumers taken in by the "bait and switch" scheme, which is widely used in the state, according to our consumer protection division.

The machine advertised most likely was not repossessed at all. It was intentionally rigged so it will break down during the demonstration. The salesman didn't want to sell it.

Anderson said this salesman intended to sell the expensive machine when the want ad was placed. The repossessed machine was advertised only as bait.

Anderson said the division has been receiving many complaints about "bait and switch" schemes.

TUESDAY WAS DEPARTURE DAY for the two regional science fair winners, Thomas W. Hedrick of Sikeston, second from left, and Miss Bonnie Zook of Cape Girardeau. Science Fair Winners Fly to Detroit

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- A four-day adventure which could lead to further recognition of their scientific ability began Tuesday for two area high school pupils - winners of the regional Science Fair.

Bonnie Zook, a sophomore at Central high school, and Thomas W. Hedrick, a Sikeston high school senior, left Cape Girardeau with five adults for Detroit, where Science Fair International is being held Tuesday through Friday.

The group left by Ozark Air Line from municipal airport at 9:30 a.m. In the group were Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Bahn, Dr. Robert Kuster, John Rigdon, Bonnie's faculty sponsor, and Bill Wilkison, who is sponsoring Tom. Dr. Bahn was director of the Regional fair winner for an experiment with hamsters. She sought to determine whether the animals could recognize line designs, colors and shapes.

Tom's project had to do with electronic reading of letters. His interest in transmitting data to a computer without use of a keyboard. Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Hedrick of Sikeston.

Dr. Kuster said he understands both projects have been modified since the regional science fair.

Judging of the projects will start Wednesday afternoon. The judges will make two tours, once to view the projects and then to interview the contestants as they stand by their projects.

Friday night will be the climax of the fair. Major awards will be announced at that time. Medical awards will be announced Thursday night.

During periods when the contestants are not actively engaged in the science fair, they will be taking tours to points of interest in Detroit. The group will return Saturday.

FT. CAMPBELL, KY. -- Specialist Four Robert D. Baker, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Baker, of route 1, Charleston, Mo., received the army commendation medal while serving with the 6th infantry division.

Political Signs Forbidden on Right-Of-Way

JEFFERSON CITY - Missouri State Highway Department Chief Engineer M. J. Snider today asked workers for political parties not to post signs or placards on state highway right of way.

"All Department maintenance personnel have been re-advised as to the long-standing policy and regulation concerning the exclusion of all advertising, including political posters and signs, from the right of way on state highways," Mr. Snider said.

"Maintenance employees statewide have been instructed to remove all such advertising immediately."

Snider added, "Much time and expense can be saved if these signs and posters are not put up on highway right of ways."

Missouri has more than 32,000 miles of state highways. Maintaining them requires the full time of all maintenance crews. Snider added, "If these crews must spend their time removing advertising signs on every mile of the highway system, the highway user is the loser in an unnecessary drain on his tax money."

"Also," Snider said, "the cluttering of right of way along Missouri's highways with signs and posters contributes to a traffic hazard as well as mars the beauty of roadside scenes."

HONOLULU (AP) - A 20-year-old hitchhiking sailor was given a ride from Pearl Harbor recently.

He offered to return the favor by sharing a smoke with his benefactor. The cigarette was marijuana, and the benefactor was a policeman.

When the sailor pulled out a sack of loose marijuana to roll his own cigarette, the policeman pulled over to the side of the road and pulled out his badge. The sailor was charged with illegal possession of narcotics.

Air Traffic Controller
Has No Room for Error

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight supply new equipment for hours a day, six days a week, present airports. Michael J. Rock doesn't dare. Proposed legislation directly make a mistake in his concerning the controller also job—hundreds of lives are at will be taken to Congress, Rock said.

Rock is an air traffic controller, the man who keeps sought, he said, would be higher the big airlines away from each salaries, with the apprentice other as they fly the crowded getting $7,000 and the "front line" controller $15,000. "If you're controlling 30 retirement after 20 years at 50 planes with 100 persons in each, per cent of pay; higher hiring that's a lot of lives," Rock said qualifications, such as several in an interview. "There's no years of college, and "no more room for a mistake. The pressure than 40 hours a week except in emergencies."

Rock, 31, a controller at New York's La Guardia Airport, is a founder and chairman of the newly formed Professional Air Traffic Controller Organization, PATCO. Since the organization's formation last January, Rock said, some 4,800 controllers have joined. The Federal Aviation Administration estimates the number of controllers in the nation at about 14,000. Other organizations representing these Civil Service employees include the Air Traffic Controllers Association and the National Association of Government Employees.

Rock said PATCO not only hopes to improve the controller's lot but the air traffic system as well. "The whole system has been patched for years," Rock said. "It's just barely keeping up, and the projections for the increase in air travel in the next decade are fantastic. About 20 per cent of the population now flies. In the next 10 years, it's expected 80 per cent will fly."

"We need airports. More and more flights are being added and there's no place to put the planes down." Finding the right spot for those planes to land is the controller's job. A controller, whose salary ranges between $6,000 a year for a trainee to about $14,000 at the top, usually handles his planes vocally and visually, by radio and radar.

Depending on the time of day and the part of the country, he may handle as little as one plane at a time or as many as 30. "But every time you go to work it's like fighting for the championship," Rock said. "And when you're finished it takes three or four hours to unwind."

Rock, a controller for 10 years, said PATCO planned to ask Congress to give more funds to build new airports as well as

Czechs Hope For Boost From U.S.

PRAGUE (AP) — Some highly placed Czechoslovak Communists who stand for liberalization of the regime express hope privately for a gesture from the United States which might bolster their morale in what looks like an uphill fight against Moscow-inspired pressure.

Non-Communist sources point out, however, that anything beyond a gesture might add danger to an already potentially explosive situation developing between Czechoslovakia and other members of the Communist bloc.

Communist informants say the United States, without appearing to interfere in the current situation, could do two things which might help both materially and in terms of morale in a country whose economic problems present formidable barriers to liberalization.

reached a peak in 1966, an over-all exchange figure of $65 million. The United States sold this country mostly grain, fertilizers and other agricultural products. Last year, the trade figure fell off by half.

The present regime, under Alexander Dubcek, first secretary of the Communist party, has made clear it would like most-favored-nation treatment. The policy of the U.S. administration is that an agreement should be negotiated.

The administration favors similar procedures in the case of Romania, also a maverick in the European Communist camp. However, the U.S. Congress has been unwilling to act.

The gold in question is Czechoslovakia's share of what was looted by the Nazis in Europe during the war. The United States, as a victor nation, pledged itself to seek the rightful owners. The gold was impounded.

Since the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia, however, and the subsequent nationalization of all property, including that of foreigners, American citizens have registered $72 million in claims, plus $41 million more in interest.

After the Communist takeover, the United States also confiscated a steel mill for which the previous non-Communist Czechoslovak government paid $17 million. The United States subsequently sold it for $9 million, which was applied against some of the claims. The present Prague government insists that the $17 million is deductible from any bill presented by the Americans.

There have been long and fruitless negotiations about the gold. The Czechoslovaks say the Americans agreed in 1961 on a lower claims figure. The United States did imply it might forget about the interest.

State Health Care Costs Soar Rapidly

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—In a report made public today state Welfare Director Proctor N. Carter said Missouri spent $9,540,528 in expanded health aid for welfare recipients during the first five full months of the Medicaid program in the state.

The 1967 Legislature appropriated $11,800,000 in state money for the period from Oct. 13, 1967, through June 30, 1968, the initial period of state operation under Title 19 of the Medicare Act. Along with that $17,300,000 in federal money is available.

The special session of the Legislature earlier this year appropriated $15,769,708 in state money for Medicaid in the 1968-69 fiscal year. For that period $25,519,487 in federal money also will be available.

Boys Now Smoking Less, Girls Enjoying It More

By NOEL GROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Back in the '40s, it was a bad boy's game and the kids were sneaking off the grounds at noon for a quick drag and, as the Music Man put it, "tryin' to cover up the tell-tale breath with Sen-Sen."

Before that, in a predominantly rural population, it was corn silk or a loosely rolled piece of toilet paper, and the woodshed if they were caught by the old man. Then came the '50s and a vanguard of the protest generation was stepping defiantly off the curb just across the street from the school and lighting up and a few girls were with them, and some of the kids were yelling for smoking rooms in the schools and recreation halls, and getting them.

By the early '60s, evidence piled up that what was once rebellion had now become almost youthful Establishment. Then, in 1964, came the bomb — not the big one but one dropped by a general, anyway — the Surgeon General's report. And now the pendulum may be swinging the other way.

Smoking, reports the U.S. Public Health Service gleefully, has undergone a slight decrease among boys.

Not a sharp decrease, admits Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health. "But we feel it is significant that all indications are that the rate of smoking among boys has not only stopped going up, but is actually turned down a little."

These tentative conclusions have been reached as the result of several studies done on a community basis but are expected to be backed up this spring by a nationwide survey on smoking habits. Most of the survey will be conducted by telephone, but the final 15 per cent will be done on a house-to-house basis in placeless areas, to get the complete picture.

"All our indications are that the results will resemble the previous data," said Dr. Horn, "but this will give us our first real solid documentation."

Weed skepticism, which began setting in after the 1964 report, is based mostly on common ground among both youth and adults.

"I don't think there is much question," said Dr. Horn, "that it's the increasing knowledge about the health factor."

Some girls find smoking a good defense against the over-anxious male.

From the first timorous suggestions that smoking and health may have some relationship, Public Health has gone to chilling statements such as those in a 1967 report: "Approximately one-third of all deaths among men between the ages of 35 and 60 are 'excess' deaths in the sense that they would not have occurred as early as they did if cigarette smokers had the same death rates as nonsmokers," and "Cigarette smoking is now the most important cause of bronchopulmonary diseases and greatly increases the risk of dying from these diseases."

One indication of the effect of such information among the high school crowd, says Dr. Horn, is the lower incidence of smoking among students coming into the nation's medical schools.

"These are the kids who were in high school about the time the Surgeon General's report first hit the public press," he said. "Presumably those interested in going to medical school were somewhat more interested in information pertaining to health, but it shows what is happening."

Still, the turning of a tide does not mean the winning of a battle. Public Health realizes. Young people continue to take up the smoking habit at a rate of 1.5 million a year, while adults are only quitting at 1,000,000 a year.

One point at which the health hazard argument breaks down with youth is their difficulty in projecting 30 and 40 years in the future

5th Infantry Division Elements to Replace Marines in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (ANF) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has announced that elements of the U.S. Army's 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) will go to Vietnam this summer.

The soldiers will replace Marines of the 27th Regimental Landing Team, which will be returning to the United States. The Marines were ordered to Vietnam in February with a brigade of the 82d Airborne Division.

Red Diamond patch of the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized).

The 5th Infantry Division currently is based at Fort Carson, Colo., where it was activated in 1962 to carry on a distinguished infantry tradition.

Often activated and inactivated, the division, with its famous "Red Diamond" shoulder patch, has seen action on some of the major battlefields of the 20th century.

The men wearing the Red Diamond landed on Utah Beach in July, 1944, and soon gained fame for river crossings under fire as they successfully pushed across France. The Nazis called them "Red Devils."

During World War I, the division saw action in the Alsace, Lorraine, St. Michel and Meuse-Argonne campaigns.

In the 1960's, the division has tested the Army's latest combat techniques. It was the first mechanized infantry division organized under the ROAD (Reorganization Objective Army Divisions) concept of complete battlefield mobility and flexibility of the division structure.

"You know, in the old days a girl could use a hat pin, but they don't wear those any more."

Ann Landers

Mate by Computer Con Game

Dear Ann Landers: I noted a somewhat cryptic message in your column today which I suspect was intended for someone who had inquired about computer type matatching. May I offer a few words of advice to those who might be considering such a thing -- either for a lark or in a serious vein?

I fell for the idea in a weak and foolish moment and I have been kicking myself ever since. All the Computer Matcher did for me was take my money (no small fee) and every month after that (from one year) I received a card (from a computer) saying, "Sorry -- nothing yet -- maybe next month we will find the one we are looking for."

Unfortunately, there are a great many lonely people in the world who are willing to try anything on the slim chance that they will find someone who will release them from their prison of solitude.

This machine mate-finding gimmick is a con game and I hope it will soon be stopped by law. -- ONCE A SUCKER

Dear Sucker: Barnum was right. There's one born every minute, and, I'd like to add -- two to take him. Thanks for the non-testimonial.

Dear Ann Landers: I know you believe in psychiatry -- and I believe in it, too. But it is not the answer to everything. On occasion you have been big enough to admit when you you have been wrong. I hope, for the sake of your millions of readers, you will not hesitate to do so again.

Recently you published a letter from a teen-ager whose mother imagined she smelled odd odors. At first she thought the odor was coming from the plastic -- including the telephone. A week later she decided the odor was coming from the walls, so they moved. Within a week she insisted the same odor had followed her to the new home. You suggested that the woman get psychiatric help.

If you had checked out that letter with some of your Harvard Medical School consultants they would have told you imaginary odors can be a symptom of brain tumor. You should have advised the woman to see a physician for a medical examination. Please tell her to do so NOW. -- OTTAWA READER

Dear Reader: You are correct and I thank you for calling this to my attention. Many physicians have written to tell me, as you did, that I was wrong. My apologies for the cropper and my thanks to all who wrote.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 14-year-old girl witha mother who is driving me buggy. I wake up in the morning hearing her voice. She yells from morning till night.

Today it went like this: "You are going to give me a nervous breakdown yet. Clean up your room or I'm going to throw all the junk into the garbage can. Stand up straight, your posture is terrible. Pull down your dress. Get off the phone. Wash your neck. Hang up your coat. Turn down the music. Cut your hair. -- bla bla bla -- What advice do you have for me, Ann? I think I'm the one who is going to have the nervous breakdown. -- PICKED ON TEEN

Dear Teen: My advice to you is pick up your junk, stand up straight, pull down your dress, get off the phone, wash your neck, hang up your coat, turn down the music and cut your hair.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage -- What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Ladners will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

About Our Schools

By Lynn Twitty

Dates to remember in relation to close of school activities are: "Open House," May 21st; Lincoln and Southwest, 7:00 P.M., Wednesday, May 22nd; Airport and Lee Hunter, 7:00 P.M., Thursday, May 23rd; Baccalaureate, 7:00 P.M., Sunday, May 26th and Commencement, 7:00 P.M., Friday, May 31st.

Open House was held at Senior High and the Middle School last week. Attendance was fair, but not as good, however, as this year. The exhibits and efforts put out by students and faculty members deserve. Perhaps the inclement weather prevented some from attending, but in spite of this, a goodly number braved the elements to see samples of the work done by students this year. We cordially invite all patrons to visit the elementary schools next week.

A strike called by the steel workers who are employees of the firm which was to fabricate the roof for the field house, will indefinitely delay completion of that building. Pigeon-Thomason, steel fabricators of Memphis, Tennessee, were the low bidders on this part of the structure and their steel workers must come to some sort of agreement before their contract can be carried out. While some work on the field house will continue, late erection of the roof structure will certainly delay the completion date. At present, it does not appear that there is any appreciable progress toward settlement of the strike.

From time to time in the past, members of the high school student body, both boys and girls, have been involved in what may, on the surface, appear to be a relatively harmless practice of "ditching." Involved either as the person who gets thrown into the ditch or on the throwing end.

While most healthy youngsters are likely to suffer no particular damage from being tossed into the water, except perhaps to their dignity and clothing, it is an extremely dangerous practice and neither parents nor authorities should allow it to continue. Dangerous in the person being so imposed upon may not be healthy or physically fit. He, or she, (the girls sometimes get ditched as well as do the boys) he may have a heart condition or other defect, may not be able to swim, or may suffer some injury in the process. If the heart condition exists or there is a lack of ability to swim, even death may be the result of this apparently harmless practice.

The involvement of students in this practice is expressly against the policy of our Board of Education and the faculty. Those who are involved, will be severely disciplined. However, our concern at school, will not prevent this potentially dangerous practice unless the parents and police are also opposed and unless collectively, the community takes the steps that are necessary to prevent what might become a tragedy.

It rained on both the days for which kindergarten and first grade enrollments were scheduled. Consequently some children were not enrolled. We urge parents to do this immediately as it will be extremely difficult for them to enroll children for either kindergarten or the first grade when school opens next fall. In fact, enrollment for kindergarten may be closed at that time. Either kindergarteners or first graders may be enrolled at any of the elementary schools.

Work Begins on New Paper Plant

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Work on the Procter & Gamble paper products plant near Neelys Landing started Monday with site clearing. It was reported by Fred Winter, project manager for Fruin-Colnon Construction Co., contractor for the plant construction.

Winters said that eight railroad carloads of earth moving equipment were on the Frisco Railroad siding near the plant site this morning and would be unloaded today and Wednesday. Then major excavation will be started. Winters said the project will require the removal of about 600,000 yards of dirt. Procter & Gamble's Charmin division is building a plant to manufacture various lines of personal paper projects on he large site near Trail of Tears Park. Initial employment is expected to be about 300.

The company has announced that later it may establish a major pulp operation at the site.

The Prayer

from
The Upper Room

Ruth said, "Entreat me not to leave you or to return from following you; for where you and I will go, and where you lodge I will lodge; your people shall be my people, and your God my God. (Ruth 1:16, RSV)
PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy wisdom in making it natural for us to live in families. May Thy light shine in the lives of all mothers that their children made in front of their homes, which add very much to the beauty of them.

If You Were the Judge

Railroad Liable for Crowd of Unruly

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Betsy was part of a mass of people waiting impatiently to board a vacation train. When the gate was finally opened, leaving a clear field to the train, the mass created a mess of poor Betsy. Stamping forward, they pushed her into a space between the train and the platform and then, for good measure, packed her down into the opening as they trampled over her, like a dentist filling a tooth.

When finally rescued, Betsy sued the railroad company for her injuries.

"I was so tightly wedged in," she complained to the judge, "they practically had to use a corkscrew to get me out."

"It wasn't our fault the crowd acted like a herd of disourteous baboons," responded a railroad company official. "We run trains and not courses in manners."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make the railroad company pay?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a carrier of passengers can be held liable for injuries caused by a crowd, when the crowd could and should have been anticipated and the injury foreseen and guarded against. (Based upon a 1965 U. S. Court of Appeals decision)

Correction

A line was left out of the second paragraph of a story which appeared in the Daily Standard April 27 under the headline "Financial Report of MAMOS." The paragraph should have read:
According to figures made public in Jefferson City, less than nine percent of the $835,000 MAMOS budget has been paid directly to low-income beneficiaries enrolled in the adult training program which MAMOS administers in Southeast Missouri.
